A 'BREACH OF FAITH'

Pacifica Chamber Aide Steps Down; Charges Leveled

By DON MILLER

Pacifica Chamber of Commerce Manager John Overfield, fresh from successfully backing a member dues increase and winning a promise of more aid for the chamber from the city, resigned this week, charging "a breach of faith" by the chamber's directors.

On the job only since January when he became the chamber's first full-time manager, Overfield declared that the directors had altered the chamber budget after the city had approved an allocation of $8,400 to the chamber, based upon the budget.

In a letter of resignation to chamber president Stanley R. vander Hule, Overfield also cited what he termed an "unworkable" list of activity controls over his job as a reason for his stepping down.

The directors drew up a program of daily activity reports and controls and instructed Overfield to begin carrying out the program Monday of this week.

Overfield asked that his resignation be made effective September 30.

However, the chamber's directors, meeting in special session at 11:45 a.m. Monday, accepted the resignation and decreed that it should become effective at noon that day.

Asked to comment on Overfield's charges, vander Hule said that the directors "consider this problem strictly a personnel problem and nothing else."

He said that the budget had been a "proposed" fiscal plan and there "was no breach of faith."

Mayor James Fox, however, said he has requested that the Overfield resignation be placed on tonight's city council agenda.

Regarding the "breach of faith" charge, Overfield said that the council had authorized the $8,400 contribution to the chamber's program based upon a total budget of $17,400 submitted to the council.

The budget included a pay raise to $9,000 for Overfield.

At a budget session Thursday night, the manager said, the directors lopped $1,000 off his salary and allocated $500 of this for the purchase of new furniture and the other $500 for general promotion activities.

"In changing the proposed budget for 1965-66 following its previous approval by the directors and submission to the City of Pacifica," Overfield wrote vander Hule, "the directors have broken faith with the city and the chamber manager."

D.C. Mayor, Civic Group Set Meeting

Racial Climate In City to Be Aired

Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli and representatives of a new community group will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall to discuss the status of the Negro in Daly City and any racial frictions that might exist.

The meeting was prompted by a charge last week by the Rev. Howard Bryant, a Daly City Negro leader and president of the Community Inter - Action Through You (C.I.T.Y.) group, that "there is not much communication among city officials and ethnic groups."

Reverend Bryant, who also is pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Daly City, made the charge in the wake of the Los Angeles riots.

He said then that he would like to see the establishment of a human relations board that would represent all walks of life in Daly City.

Mayor Pacelli, commenting Monday on the minister's remarks of last week, declared that the city "would be glad to sit down at any time and dis-

Here's How To Cash in On License

Cash prizes totaling $1,500 have been awarded thus far in The Times' popular Lucky License game.

The San Mateo Times, parent publication of The Post and San Mateo county's largest daily newspaper, is offering $50 per day in cash to the car owner whose license is photographed by the "mystery photographer" and published in The Times.

The prize is doubled if the winner is also a Times subscriber.

Last week saw two of the daily prizes go unclaimed, which resulted in two Times subscribers each winning a $200 bonus award.

Tax Base Up 43 Per Cent In N. County

D. C. Records The Biggest Increase

Total assessed valuation in the North County is up 43 per cent over last year, according to final figures supplied by County Controller Ira Boynton for the North County cities of Colma, Daly City, Pacifica and South San Francisco.

The assessed roll reflects both new construction during the past year and the reappraisal of property undertaken by County Assessor Ralph Woodman.

The North County roll shows a $81.3-million boost over the 1964-65 figure.

Biggest increase, both from a dollar and a percentage standpoint, was recorded by Daly City. Boynton's figures show that the city's roll jumped 50 per cent to a figure of $107.5-million or $35.8-million greater than last year.

Pacifica showed the second highest percentage increase — 49 per cent — as the roll jumped $14-million to a total of $42.6-million.

South San Francsco, which has the highest assessed valuation of the four cities, recorded a 36 per cent boost in values. The new total is $117.5-million, a $31-million boost over last year.

In Colma, the assessed valuation increased $485,000 to a new total of $1.9-million.

On a county-wide basis, the total assessed valuation passed the billion dollar mark for the first time. Total figure, rounded off, is $1.3-billion.

Last year, the county's roll for tax purposes stood at $958-million.

Boynton and his staff were expected to have the tax rates for the county and for special districts computed this week.

The assessed valuation roll will be reviewed by the State Equalization Board early next month. The board of supervisors has asked the board to review the roll with a view

"Desperate and temporary" improvisation will enable Jefferson High School to house all its scheduled classes this fall despite the fact that delays have ruled out the possibility of completing construction work on an addition prior to the opening of school next month.

A report on the improvisational measures was given to the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees Monday night by Asst. Supt. Fred O. Goodell during a discussion of the district's construction projects.

Unification Plans Voted Once Again

San Mateo County's Committee on School District Organization last week voted to resubmit plans to unify the Jefferson and San Mateo High School Districts.

Both plans have been rejected by the State Board of Education.

The unification, or joining of elementary and high schools within a given area into the same school system, was ordered by the state in 1959.

Legislation permits unification on less than total high school district boundaries, under certain conditions, but the State Board of Education has insisted on plans conforming to high school district sizes.

Public hearings on the two renewed local plans are scheduled for next month.

Opposing votes on the committee called for approval of plans for unification of each high school district in its entirety.

It was said that these proposals would win state ap-

A D.C. DREAM

Ground-Breaking Set for Center

Daly City's favorite municipal dream—a bright, new civic center complex — starts smartly down the road to reality at precisely 2 p.m. tomorrow.

At that hour, a proud gathering of city, civic, community and business leaders will gather at Ninetieth Street and Sullivan Avenue to applaud the turning of the first shovel of dirt for the project.

The ground-breaking ceremony will be the official start of construction on the $2.5 million project and the digging and hammering will go on for about the next 18 months.

Prior to the ceremony, the civic center architects, Haines-Tatarian & Associates, and the general contractor, the Guy F. Atkinson Company of South San Francisco, will host a civic luncheon in the new Lake Merced Country Clubhouse.

At a meeting of the City Council Monday night, City Attorney Paul Hupf reported that all necessary papers have been signed for financing the complex and that the non-profit corporation that will build the structure now has the funds to proceed.

He also reported that the Pacific Gas & Electric Company has agreed to remove a number of utility poles and a substation on the civic center property.

The utility company, he said, will operate a mobile substation at Ninety-first Street and Edgeworth Avenue for about three months until permanent facilities to replace the old substation can be completed.

Hupf said the city should ex-

'Hizzoner 'Dedicates' a Playground

PLAYGROUND dedication ceremonies come and go but the one they staged at a new play area at 247 Polaris Way in Daly City Saturday will long be remembered by participants. That's because Mayor Francis Pacelli, at the gentle urging of Post-Times Photographer Bill Koska, decided that the proper way to dedicate a playground was to break it in. Watching His Honor do just that on a slide are, clockwise from lower left, Councilmen Bernard Lycett and Micheal DeBernardi, Recreation Commissioner Louis Larcombe, Councilmen Edward Dennis and Albert Polonsky and Recreation Commissioner Ann Eason. Daly City to Set Its Rate On Monday

The Daly City Council will meet at 8 p.m. Monday night to set the city's property tax rate for the 1965-66 fiscal year. By law, the city must set the rate by September 1.

Last week, County Controller Ira Boynton reported that the city's assessed valuation for taxing purposes is $107,500,000 —an increase of almost $35.8—million over the total for the previous fiscal year.

Councilmen have indicated that they will approve a tax rate that will compensate for the reassessment of property undertaken by County Assessor Ralph Woodman this year.

Last year, the tax rate was $1.50 per $100 of assessed valuation.

At this week's meeting of the Council, a suggestion that the city defer setting its tax rate until after the State Board of Equalization reviews the county roll in September was made by Councilman Micheal DeBernardi.

He argued that the public would be confused if a tax rate were set now and then changed if the state board approved a revision in the assessment roll.

"How are we going to get this all across to the people who don't know about taxes,"

A RECORD LOW

Coast Okays Tax Rate Cut of 22c

The Pacifica City Council last week adopted a final budget for the fiscal year 1965-66 amounting to $794,187. The tax rate per $100 assessed valuation was set at $1.875, lowest in city history and a 22-cent drop from last year.

Karl A. Baldwin, city manager, said the original proposed tax rate was to be $2.22 but was reduced because of a high tax base that resulted from property reassessments.

In spite of the tax rate drop, more money will be available to the city than last year, and Baldwin will be able to begin new projects, councilmen indicated.

The Chamber of Commerce was awarded $8,400 although it had appeared that the allocation would amount to only $6,000. The amount exceeds last year's allocation by $4,200.

The council members gave themselves a 200 per cent increase in salary. Beginning April 1, 1966, councilmen will receive $150 a month each as compared to the current $50 a month. The payroll for councilmen will amount to $9,000 a year.

City employes received a three per cent cost-of-living increase plus a retirement plan. Police and fire department were authorized three and two additional men respectively.

The city's income from all sources including property taxes will jump from last year's $1.72 million to a record high $2.18 million this year.

Baldwin said the final inventory within the city not secured in the form of improvements and land and the utility roll figures were "disappointingly low."

In other action last week, the council approved a request to the State Water Pollution Control Board to enact erosion control measures at the Daly City dump. According to Baldwin, an occasional wave washes over parts of the dump and carries garbage to Pacifica beaches.

Woodman Recall Move Under Way; Petitions Given Out in N. County

THE DISTRIBUTION of 5,000 petitions, seeking the recall of County Assessor Ralph Woodman, was scheduled to begin this week. The initial distribution was planned for the North County.

The recall movement has been organized by the newly formed Committee Opposing Inequitable Assessments. Daly City members include Peter Markovich, manager of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and LaRone Wirch of 480 El Dorado Drive.

H. Vance Wardlow of Menlo Park, treasurer of the committee, said 12,000 signatures are needed before a recall application can be filed with the county clerk's office.

THE COMMITEE held its first public meeting last week on the recall issue. The session was conducted in M. Pauline Brown Elementary School in Daly City and attended by about 35 property owners and representatives of North County homeowner associations.

The recall petition was discussed and plans made for its distribution, Wardlow said.

He said the committee is compiling "a long list of volunteers" who will distribute petitions throughout the county.

He added the committee hopes to hold a similar public meeting soon in the central part of the county to further organize the distribution of petitions.

Wardlow said the committee has opened an account with the Sequoia National Bank in Redwood City and will channel expense funds through this account.

The committee hopes to have enough signatures on the petition in 30 days, Wardlow said. Each petition has room for 20 names.

A complete list of county pre-

Chair Takes Quick 'Swim'

A burning chair got the old heave-ho into a swimming pool in Daly City Thursday night.

When firefighters responded to a call at the apartment of A. E. Miranda at 205 Palmcrest Drive, they found the chair blazing away.

To save time and further damage to the apartment, they heaved the chair into a swimming pool that serves the apartment building.

structed to carry out, Overfield wrote:

"The daily activity control proposed for the manager might be workable in a large office staffed with record-keeping personnel.

"The chamber office, however, has no such staff and it is ludicrous to suggest that the chamber manager curtail his activity level with this form of pencil-pushing routine."

Overfield said later that he had objected to the directors' action in changing the budget at Thursday's directors' meeting.

"I told them it would be a breach of faith," he said.

The manager added that he had been told that if he was successful in promoting a dues increase and in obtaining an increased allocation from the city, there would be "no trouble" on his salary.

Last year, the city allocated $4,200 to the chamber's program —half the figure approved this year.

In his comments on the manager's charges, vander Hule said that the budget was still in balance and that "what was altered was the salary concept."

He said directors were worried that the dues increase would not provide the income planned (because of possible member resignations) and that directors therefore decided to cut back the increase in Overfield's salary.

"We told John we would put his salary on a 90-day review and if the budget income came up to strength, at the end of that time we would consider the increase in his salary."

Regarding the activity controls, vander Hule said that the last paragraph of the directive to the manager explained sufficiently the reasons for the controls. The paragraph read:

"The above mentioned policy will enable the board to justify the necessity of the full-time management concept and office facilities. It will enable organization of vital records and establish future needs and control."

cuss any problem that might exist."

He added that on a number of occasions, city officials have offered to sit down with Reverend Bryant and discuss any problem.

He said he would like to know if C.I.T.Y. was "truly representative" of all segments of the Daly City community.

Last week, Reverend Bryant quoted a survey that said that 12,000 Negroes live in Daly City. The County Health Department has reported that in 1964, the county had a total of 13,500 Negroes.

When a reporter commented Monday that 12,000 Negroes in Daly City would mean one out of every five Daly City residents was a Negro, Reverend Bryant said that perhaps the survey figures were incorrect and that he would check the source to determine if an error had been made in the estimate.

The minister said he would attend a Negro leadership conference this week in Los Angeles and would have a report when he returned.

proval, and would get at least a ballot proposition before the local voters.

Both full-sized unification moves were defeated, 8 to 3.

Both split-district plans were approved, 8 to 3.

A public hearing on the North County plan was scheduled for September 21 at 8 p.m.

The meeting place is to be announced, but will probably be in one of the Jefferson District high schools, said Committee Chairman Alan Beaumont.

To be heard will be the twice-defeated plan to unify Laguna Salada elementary district schools with Oceana and Terra Nova high school, as one district, and to make another unified district of the remainder of Jefferson High school district and the elementary districts of Jefferson, Brisbane, and Bayshore elementary districts.

Public airing of the Central Bay plan was scheduled for September 23, probably at Mills or Burlingame High Schools.

That plan is to unify San Mateo elementary district and the high schools within it, by itself; and to unify the remaining part of San Mateo High School district and the elementary districts in Burlingame, Hillsborough, Millbrae and San Bruno.

Contrary to previous practice, only one public hearing will be held in each high school district.

The committee formerly held public sessions in each of the proposed "split" areas, Beaumont noted, but a recent ruling of the District Attorney's office has made this unnecessary.

He commented that last week's vote was for a "tentative" recommendation, and that a final vote on whether to take the plan to the state board would be taken after the public hearings.

Even if approved by the state, the propositions have to be passed by local voters before they can be put into effect, he said.

Opponents to the split plan said the proposals again will be turned down by the state, and result in stricter state legislation urging unification, or in state direction of the unificaton process.

In effect, several speakers said, the decision to resubmit the split plans keeps any decision out of the hands of the voters for perhaps another year.

ries for the proposed Pengate and Serramonte High Schools.

According to Richard Coltrell, district administrative assistant, a third prime concern for the committee will be the solution of any ethnic or economic segregation problems that may result from any boundary arrangements.

Coltrell said the board hopes to have the committee functioning in September so that reports and recommendations may be made to trustees in November.

The reason for the tight schedule, Coltrell said, are attendance problems that will arise if solutions are not forthcoming prior to the opening of classes in the fall of 1966.

In order to have a program ready by that time, it will be necessary for the board to establish its policy by the end of the year, he said.

Trustees voted to select three committeemen from the Bayshore - Southern Hills - Brisbane area; three from Daly City east of Junipero Serra Boulevard; three from Westview-Fairmont and Westlake Terrace; three from Pacific Manor-Sharp Park and Fairway Park, and three from Linda Mar-Pedro Point and Terra Nova Highlands.

Five members will come from Daly City west of Junipero Serra, excluding the Westlake Terrace area; one member will come from the Pacific Heights-Portola Highlands, and one member from the Vallemar-Rockaway Beach sector.

In addition, each trustee selected one member-at-large for the committee.

In other action the board voted to borrow $950,000 to meet the current obligations of the district until tax moneys become available in the fall.

pect to bear part of the cost of relocating PG&E facilities.

The civic center will be situated between Ninetieth and Ninety-second Streets and Edgeworth and Sullivan Avenues. Architect Donald Haines has described the design as "neo-classic."

In other action Monday night, the council:

Voted for a resolution that declares that Daly City reserve police officers, while on duty for the city, shall be considered employes of the city for workmen's compensation benefits.

Directed Hupf to study how much freedom Civil Service employes have in participating in political activities.

The directive was prompted by a request by George Kirchhubel, owner of Kirchhubel's Tavern at 6296 Mission Street, for an opinion on whether city employes could participate in the activities of the Congress of Political Education (COPE).

Passed a resolution, favoring the La Canada Road alignment of the proposed Junipero Serra Freeway between Ralston Avenue and Edgewood Road in the southern part of the county.

ana High School is almost complete and the school will open without problems in the fall, Goodell said. Also nearing completion is the district's bus garage, which is 98 per cent completed, he said.

In other action Monday evening, teacher participation in planning again became an issue as representatives of the Jefferson District Federated Teachers' Association read a statement from JFT President Robert Nissem. The statement protested that the speed with which proposals are made and acted upon fails to allow time for the teachers' organization to consider them and formulate opinions.

JFT officials said they were specifically protesting a student teacher handbook proposal and a suggested timetable for the construction of Serramonte High School.

Woodman Recall Move Is Begun

cincts has been prepared to aid the committee in distributing petitions, Wardlow said.

SPECIFICALLY, he explained, the recall movement is based on the committee's contention that school districts in the county will lose "a large amount of state aid" because of Woodman's reassessment program.

Wardlow said the recall backers also are disturbed about what he termed "inequities" in assessments as a result of protest hearings held by the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization.

He cited the board's program of granting reductions in assessed values for bona fide farm and ranch land as an example of the inequities.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald has said the board, in general, is granting a 25 per cent reduction in assessed values for farm and ranch land.

He explained the board felt farm income should have carried a greater weight in the determination of a farmland valuation.

The Committee Opposing Inequitable Assessments is headed by Verpon Elder of Atherton. Other members include:

Mrs. Ruth DuBois of Atherton, Ben Shade of Redwood City, Ron Schultz of Belmont, Inder Shabra of San Mateo, and Paul McGill of Redwood City.

The group is being backed by the Tri-County Apartment Association, which has members in San Mateo, Santa Clara and Alameda Counties.

Coast Plans Fee Hike for Pipe Hookups

Owners of new apartments and commercial dwellings in Pacifica may be paying increased sewer connection rates if a new ordinance being introduced at tonight's city council meeting gains final approval.

The ordinance, a proposed amendment to the city's present sewer connection rate schedule, would not affect single dwellings.

An Emergency Hospital Facility Study Committee will be appointed at tonight's meeting. A need for such facilities in Pacifica has been expressed by residents because of the city's distance from Peninsula Hospital and the soon-to-open Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

City Attorney Carl Reisch will present an ordinance prepared by Fire Chief Edward Greer and Chief Building Inspector Richard Taylor to curb garage fires.

Fire reports show that a number of fires in Pacifica have been connected with garages.

The ordinance would bar water heaters from garage areas or require the heaters to be raised three feet from the floor.

In most of the city's present dwellings water heaters sit on cement garage floors and are exposed to spilled gasoline, fumes or paint.

The ordinance would also ban work in garages that might cause the spilling of gasoline.

toward reducing the ratio of assessed valuation to fair market value closer to the state average.

Last week, the board announced that on the basis of reports received from county assessors, the state average will be 21.8 per cent.

The reassessment program undertaken by Woodman in San Mateo County has resulted in a countywide average of 24.7 per cent, second highest ratio in the state, the board reported.

Daly City to Set Tax Rate

DeBernardi asked. "I don't know."

However, other councilmen said they felt the city should proceed with the setting of a tax rate.

Councilmen Albert Polonsky remarked that the city could not be faulted if the rate had to be changed later. "The only one to blame is the county for the way it has acted. . . ."

DOORS BROKEN

Officials of Security Builders at 15 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had broken two sliding plate glass doors in the rear of a building at 1220 Edgeworth Abenue, Daly City.

BEER, FOOD STOLEN

Thieves stole eight cases of beer and food, valued at a total of $75, from the New Westlake Market at 555 Knowles Avenue, market officials reported to Daly City police last week.

Hearing for Prara Case Is Delayed

A scheduled hearing on the procedure adopted by the district attorney's office to subpoena witnesses to testify in the San Mateo County Grand Jury investigation of Sheriff's Capt. Alvin J. Prara has been continued until next month.

Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis, before whom the hearing was to be held, continued the matter until September 3 at 1:30 p.m. because he currently is hearing a criminal trial.

Nine witnesses have been subjected to the orders to show cause why they should not testify concerning Prara's alleged involvement in a multimillion-dollar bookmaking ring.

Prara presently is under suspension from his post.

A court hearing was held August 4 and continued to last week so that attorneys for both sides could file briefs about the procedure whereby the witnesses ostensibly were called to a dummy grand jury session and there served with the orders to show cause.

DAMAGE REPORTED

Willie Dunkley of 550 Vista Grande Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that a window in his station wagon had been broken.

Ballew Will Run Again

Fred M. Ballew Jr., incumbent member of the Pacifica City Council, has announced he will seek re-election next April for his expiring council seat.

In making the statement, Ballew said, "The decision to make my announcement at this time is to clearly indicate that I will stand firmly now and in the future on my record as a councilman.

"I have no intention of changing my position opposing 'Development for Development's Sake.' I am adamant in my belief that we must continue to upgrade development in this community."

Ballew works in San Francisco and lives in Pacifica.

He promised:

"I shall continue to press for municipal ownership of the beaches, acquisition of property for a future Civic Center and reservation or municipal ownership of land that will be future city parks. The beaches and land will never be any cheaper than they are today."

Coast Water Unit Agrees On Expansion

Expansion of the North Coast County Water District headquarters in Pacifica is now possible, it was reported at the district's monthly meeting last week.

A settlement has been reached on the Collard property in Sharp Park, across from the district's present offices.

This area comprises three lots, 60 by 100-feet, on which three old houses are located.

Limiting the number of water tanks in Westborough also was discussed at the meeting.

Because this is the only suitable elevation in the area, manager Harland Hill said it could become a tank farm, which would mar the beauty of Westborough.

One recourse he said, would be to share water with the Westborough Water Comapny and Daly City and establish rates.

North Coast at present is building a 3½-million gallon tank and has sold another to Daly City.

An example of co-operative water exchange, Hill noted, is an arrangement for Serramonte. Daly City is purchasing water for this development from Pacifica.

Westborough water sotrage for Pacifica is only for emergency use, Hill pointed out. Another supplementary or emergency supply of water for Pacifica would be Pedro Creek.

A court order has been obtained to enable an engineer to survey this area for possible use as a water shed.

The overall growth of Pacifica has required a fourth pump installation, district directors were told. The pump, to be installed at the main station, will increase the district water capacity to 5,000 gallons a minute.

Board Urges Local Water For Course

How much water does it take to keep a golf course green in Northern California?

The North Coast County Water District estimates that the Sharp Park Golf Course uses the same amount as 1,506 homes would use and it would like to furnish that water to the golf course.

The Sharp Park course is owned by the City of San Francisco and operated by its Recreation and Park Department.

At present, it uses a separate supply of water coming from San Francisco.

At a meeting of the North Coast district board, members decided to recommend that the golf course buy local water.

The old irrigation system of the course could be modernized and purchase of water from Pacifica could result in a saving, Harland Hill, water district manager, declared.

By LE PACINI

"MAURY WILLS is 'king' as far as stealing bases is concerned, but there's nobody near Willie Mays when it comes to all-around base running and the just plain God-given instinct to virtually do always the right thing on the bases."

So says Daly City resident Charles Fox, and he should know.

Fox, of course, is the Giants' third base coach and a rarity in baseball in that he was groomed almost from the beginning of his career as a Giant "organization man" to be a manager rather than a player.

Which may seem very strange, considering Charley's major league lifetime batting average of .429.

That's what Charley hit with the Giants as a 20-year-old part-time catcher in 1942 after coming up from Bristol in the Appalachian League that same year, his maiden season in organized ball.

His three hits in seven times at bat, however, didn't impress Uncle Sam who required his services in the Big Game from 1943 to 1945 — a long but fruitful season.

WHEN FOX returned, the Giants suddenly saw him as a manager rather than a consistent .429 hitter and, at mid-season, he took over a sagging Manchester club in the New England League at the age of 24 — becoming one of the youngest managers of a professional baseball team in the modern history of the game.

Charley was a playing manager (he hit over .300 three times, to prove that the .429 wasn't a complete fluke) for Giant farms for the next decade, during which he ushered teams to eight first division finishes, including a pennant and three second places.

Fox became a scout in 1957 and briefly returned to managing when he took over Tacoma last year.

It was, in fact, Fox who was perhaps most prominently mentioned in early returns as Alvin Dark's successor before Horace Stoneham finally put the finger on Herman Franks.

WHICH BRINGS us full circle to Mays, because as competent a baseball man as Fox has proven himself, Mays, while on the bases, is on his own 90 per cent of the time.

About the only time Willie really needs help, says Fox, is when the baseball is directly in back of him and he can't fully utilize his patented method of keeping his eye on the ball while in full flight.

Mays, incidentally, is probably the only man in baseball who can consistently get away with that technique, which is contrary to probably the most basic rule of baserunning, "Watch your coach." Any Little Leaguer will tell you that.

But then Al Simmons stepped in the bucket and Mel Ott lifted his front foot and Juan Marichal almost literally falls off the mound on his follow-through. There aren't, however, many players like Simmons, Ott, Marichal, Mays, et al. It may be the mark of a true "great" that he can not only break basic tenets and get away with it but can actually use such unorthodoxy to his advantage.

FOX CHUCKLES when he says that there are several Giants — and other players around the league —who try to emulate Mays in his "look-see" technique and just can't get away with it.

It may be a literal fact that a coach, in many cases, would hamper Mays by attempting to help him.

Fox considers "base stealing" and "base running" as distinctly separate arts.

Probably the simplest way to describe the difference is this: Willis steals bases by continual study, virtually by rehearsal. Mays runs the bases ad lib — does what comes naturally.

About the only player in Fox's memory who came close to Mays in baserunning instinct, he feels, was the great Dodger, Jackie Robinson.

We asked Fox what the toughest play is for a third base coach, and he replied: "Psychologically, they're all tough, even the so-called routine plays. Your decision could mean a game — or a pennant.

"There's so much to account for. We must know the game situation, the strength of opposing arms and be able to compute these and any number of other such factors almost instantaneously into an intelligent decision.

"But what many fans don't realize is the most obvious factor. We must know our own man, as well.

"For instance, I must check before every game on how our players are feeling that day. One guy may have come up with a slight muscle pull, for example, that's not bad enough to bench him, but will slow him half a stride. So what I sent him in on yesterday, I wouldn't today. There are no such things as identical situations in ball games."

WE ALSO ASKED Fox why there is a high incidence of former catchers who turn up as managers and coaches.

"Probably because of their intense training and opportunity to study the game," he said. "A catcher is literally in on every play, must think about every pitch. He's the only player who has the whole field in front of him, who can see all the plays developing and know how and why they did or didn't develop. He's continually in conference with managers and pitchers."

So anyway, that was our interview with Charley Fox. We hope we've proven that that third base coaches do more than clap their hands and hitch their belts, although Fox himself will be the first to admit that he has it easier than most third base coaches. With Willie Mays on his side, he only has to work eight-ninths of the time.

FACTISTICS: AT this writing, not only do the Giants have the third best team earned run average in baseball, but the Giant pitching staff has allowed fewer hits than any pitching staff in the NL, and only Cleveland in the AL exceeds them there. Also, the Giants are third in the NL in strikeouts (Cincy and LA leading), and, outside of Houston, have issued fewer walks than any team in either league. The Dodgers' staff has completed almost twice as many games than the AL leader (Cleveland) in that department. An oddity: The top three RBI men in the NL aren't the top three homer men.

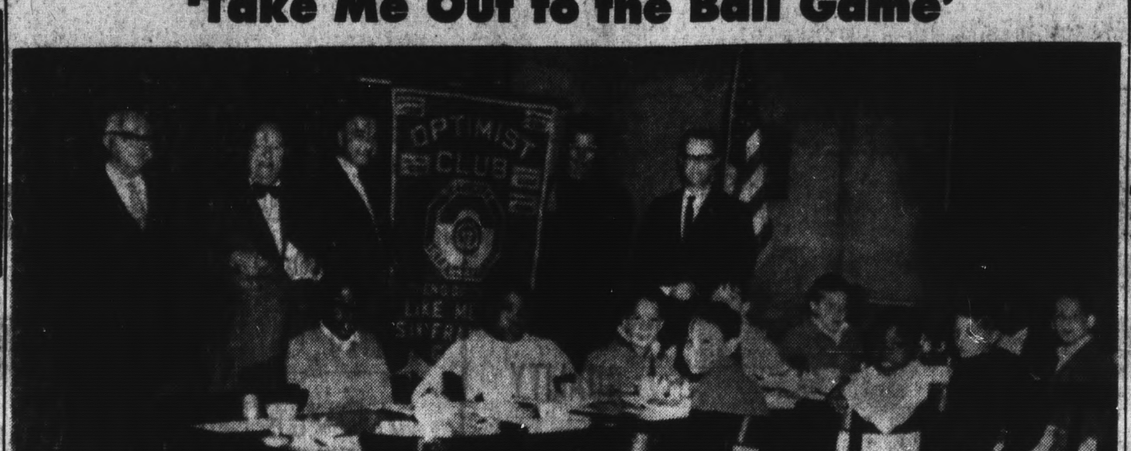
LOCAL NOTES: We goofed AGAIN on Alan Gallagher last week. We said that both he and Bruce Hix, the other local third base Giant chattel, were in the same league. Gallagher's in the AA Eastern League (Springfield), right enough, but Hix is in the Class A Midwest League (Decatur) . . .

'Take Me Out to the Ball Game'



THE LAKE MERCED Optimists Club treated 10 youngsters to lunch last week and later took the group to the ball game where the Giants downed the New York Mets, 3-2. The youngsters are from the Ocean View and Ingleside districts of San Francisco. Optimists, left to right, are Joseph Cabra,, Dr. Charles Bates, Robert Aring, Capt. Roland Jones and James Ryan. The group of youngsters included Lange Blanshei, Arthur Bevin, James Gatewood, George Gatewood, Marty Jenkins, Alan Porter, James and John Zlater, Herbert Moore Jr. and Rene Mendieta.

Jr. Olympics Will Conclude D.C. Program

The Daly City Recreation Department's annual Junior Olympics will highlight the last week of the summer playground program this week.

The sports competition will be held at Westlake Park, starting at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The program will include a softball throw contest for boys and girls, ages 7-9; a standing broad jump contest for boys and girls, 10-11; a potato carrying relay for boys and girls, 12-14, and a shuttle relay event. event.

Members of the department-sponsored Boys' and Girls' Athletic Clubs will demonstrate each event.

Students in the Department's tennis program will compete in championship playoffs at noon.

The Junior Olympics will open with a parade of nations. Each playground will represent a country.

Last year, Garden Village School Playground won top honors, edging Lincoln Park.

A Recreation Department spokesman said the city's playgrounds will close at noon tomorrow.

Children attending the olympics will travel by bus to Westlake Park. Cost of the transportation will be 25 cents.

The last day of the summer playground season will be Friday. Special programs will end today.

The city's playgrounds will reopen Monday, September 20.

These play areas will be open from Monday until Friday, September 10, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day: the War Memorial Community Center, Lincoln Park, Frankfort Park, Westmoor Park, Lincoln Park and Marchbanks Park.

Hurler Pitches 2nd No-Hitter

Daly City semi-pro pitcher Lou Ferrari pitched his second no-hitter in two years Sunday at Henessey Field in San Francisco. He hurled the Vaughn's Liquors nine to an 18-3 win over Mi-Rancho in the tough Continental Semi-Pro League.

Ferrari faced only 31 batters. He struck out ten and walked two.He chalked up his first no-hitter in February of last year.

He's Chairman

BILL GREER, well-known Daly City bowler, has been named chairman of the seventh annual Daly City Police Athletic League (PAL) Benefit Bowling Tournament, which opens at 7 p.m Saturday at Westlake Bowl.

PAL Tourney Ready to Roll

A banner turnout of Daly City officials, civic leaders, bowlers and spectators is expected for the opening of the seventh annual Daly City Police Athletic League (PAL) Bowling Tournament at 7 p.m. Saturday in Westlake Bowl.

The tournament will continue until August 28. Cash and merchandise prizes worth more than $5,000 will be awarded contestants during the course of the tournament.

Proceeds will be used to finance the youth program of the PAL. The organization depends upon the tournament for its entire financial base.

More than 2,000 Daly City Youngsters participate in PAL programs, according to a spokesman for the organization.

Heading the benefit tournament this year is Bill Greer, well-known Daly City bowler. Co-chairman is Daly City Asst. Police Chief Roy Beecher.

NEW YORK — Hoyt Wilhelm, veteran relief pitcher, is the only pitcher ever to lead both major leagues in earned run average. Wilhelm led the National League with 2.43 in 1952 while with the New York Giants and topped the American League with a 2.19 in 1959 while a member of the Baltimore Orioles.

For the men, Ed Lendewig and Bob Bliss rolled very nice 210's, but Frank Clark walked away with all honors, 216—555. Ruth Sealey, rolling on the Yawners, had the high game and series for the day. The game, 201, the series, ???. Okay Ruth?

Westlake Bowl

SATURDAY EVENING all roads will lead to Westlake for the opeing squad in the Seventh Annual Daly City Police Athletic League Benefit Bowling Tournament. Once again, a banner crowd is expected to be on hand for the opening of the tournament, which supports a youth athletic program in Daly City. Competition for over $5,000 worth of merchandise prizes will continue until October 10.

ARLENE STEINBERG topped the 600 mark as she topped the Ladies' 630 Invitational Classic with a 606 total on games of 192-171-243. The first of the 1965-66 winter leagues gets underway tonight as the Westlake Knolls 800 Handicap League opens with the Bernal Club returning as defending champs.

Cele Murray has found that "shopping for pins" gets her more Blue Chip stamps than grocery shopping. She again led the ladies in the Monday afternoon Blue Chip Special, taking home 1,290 stamps. Jean Lunghi won 780 for second place.

Carolyn Johnson and Vic Day were tops for the week in the Southgate Mixed Fives, Carolyn shooting 184—501 and Vic a 210 game and 565 series. Winter league meetings are still in progress with openings in various men's, women's and mixed leagues. For information, call PL 6-5777. Bertha Garcia led the ladies in the B'nai B'rith Summer Mixed Fours with 190—478 as Sid Kaplan topped the men with 205—582.

When the Professional Bowler's Association tour visits Castle Lanes September 30, Westlake Bowlers will have an opportunity to participate in the $20,000 amateur prize fund by winning a spot in the Westlake Pro-Am Sweeper now in progress. With an entry fee of $7, one of each 20 entrants will receive a paid $100 entry in the Pro-Am. Bowlers may compete any time lanes are available.

JOHN BAZZANELLA led the four game 555 Trio for the week with a 244 game and 840 series. A great 254 game and 658 series by Paul Frank led the Westlake Majors last Friday night. Leaders in the Lakeside Mixed Fives were Jerry Machado with a 132 game and 377 series and Al Olivieri with 201 and 518.

Ray Robinson won the Friday Jackpot Sweeper with a 211 game and 618 series but was unable to knock Bob Hood from his King of the Hill spot, losing five strikes to four. Seven had to be Evelyn Goldkuhl's lucky number last Friday as she won $7 for shooting 777 in the Friday afternoon Blue Chip No-Tap, plus taking home 1,960 Blue Chip Stamps. Second place went to Emira Garcia with 728, $6 and 1,000 stamps. Peg Miller was elading lady in the Summer Sets league with 156 and 437.

Discontent Heard Again In Westboro

Westborough home owners, who elected their own candidates to the Westborough Water District in April over a dispute regarding taxation, are reportedly unhappy again.

Cause for the unhappiness apparently is misunderstanding over the Water Board's new tax rate, adopted August 12.

At that time, District Directors set the 1965-66 tax rate at $1.51. per $100 assessed property value.

Some homeowners apparently did not understand, they say, that the $1.51 is a combined rate, covering taxes for sewer facilities as well as water services.

Last year, Westborough residents paid a tax rate of $.98 for water services, and $.43 for sewer facilities. In addition, homeowners paid $9 per year, or $.75 per month, for actual sewer service fees.

Since the Water Directors met, however, homeowners have been chanting "recall election" again for the first time since April, saying that their water tax rate has "doubled."

One spokesman explained this statement by saying that the new tax rate, if applied to last year's property tax assessments instead of this year's 30 per cent higher assessment, would have been equal to $100, or exactly double last year's water tax rate of $.98.

Man Seized In Clothes Of a Woman

A San Francisco man was seized on a citizen's arrest early Sunday morning after a Daly City restaurant patron reported that he had entered a ladies' rest room dressed in women's clothes.

Charged with outraging public decency was Rodolfo DeSouza, 33. He was released on $276 bail and ordered to appear for a hearing in Northern Judicial Municipal Court in South San Francisco at 2 p.m. September 13.

Also seized on a citizen's arrest in connection with the incident was Katherine M. Holden, 25, of San Francisco. She was charged with assault and battery. She also was released in $276 bail and ordered to appear September 13.

Mary M. Bowker, 24, of 401 Irvington Street, swore out warrants for the arrests.

She told Patrolman James Goss that after she entered the ladies' rest room at Sanford's Restaurant at School and Mission Street about 3 a.m., she noticed a male clad in women's clothing.

When she asked the man to leave, he and a woman companion just laughed at her, she said.

She said that earlier, the woman companion, identified as Miss Holden, had thrown coffee into her face.

Goss said he had asked the man why he was in the ladies' room and that the man had replied that he thought it was appropriate for the way he was dressed.

DRAPES SLASHED

Officials of Karp Properties of San Francisco reported to Daly City police last week that someone had stolen a number of items and slashed drapes in houses under construction at 90th Street and Edgeworth Avenue.

Two Bandits Get $275 at Coast Motel

Two men pulled a "strong-arm holdup" at the Rockaway Motel in Pacifica last Wednesday night and made good their escape with $275, police said.

The victims, David and Josephine Kessler, managers of the motel, said two men came to the door at 11:30 p.m. Kessler told police one was about 30 and the other about 26.

When Kessler opened the door, one of the men grabbed him, twisted his arm, and said, "This is a stickup — where's your money?"

The robbers then pushed the victims into the adjoining bedroom and removed cash from their wallets and cash register, police said.

The suspects locked their victims in the bathroom by shoving a dresser in front of the door. They left in a vehicle parked outside, according to investigators.

WINDOW BROKEN

Joseph Ferrari of 485 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had broken a window in his residence.

Overhaul for Soap Bubble

DOES YOUR soap bubble look different? Probably not, but the multi-billion dollar detergent industry has done something to it nevertheless. What is has done is to try to take the foam out of the bubble after it has served its purpose.

Detergent foam has become the scourge of sewage treatment plants, cesspools and other repositories of waste water, because it is only mildly affected by the bacterial action which completely destroys waste soaps made from other materials.

Here in the North County, for example, a cleaning agent dumped into the North San Mateo County Sanitation District's lines on at least three occasions in the past year has worried district officials, mindful that the agent could sterilize the bacteria the district uses to treat sewage.

Detergent foam has become an unmanagable mess in dense population centers where water is reclaimed and used over and over. The detergent base continues to build up until water coming out of the spigot occasionally bubbles up like champagne.

NOT ONLY are bubbles in the waterpipes annoying, they create havoc in disposal plants. Costly treatment facilities frequently are required to continuously filter the water and tediously remove the detergent accumulation.

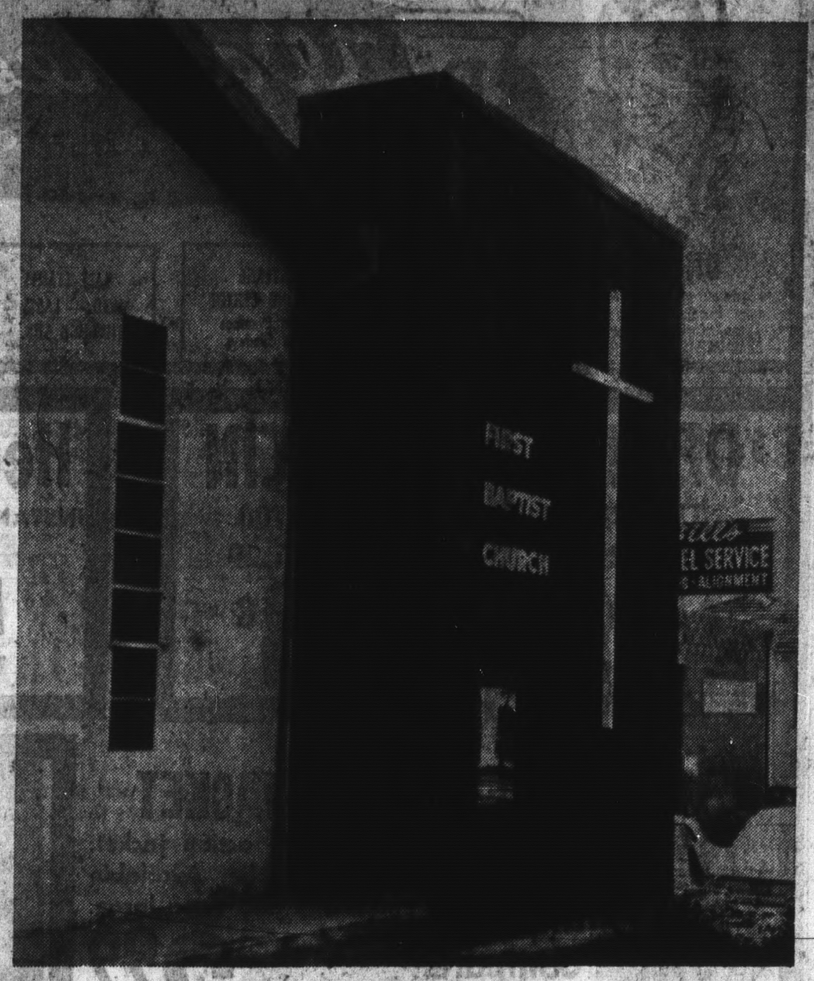
Agitation against the growing stockpile of soap bubbles became so intense the state of Wisconsin and Miami, Fla., enacted anti-detergent legislation. Hearings have been held by various federal bodies, some of which had resulted in proposals for legislation to cope with the problem at the federal level.

Fortunately for all concerned, the detergent industry launched a $100 million research program to find a base for its product which would more easily dissolve. The effort was successful.

SOME MONTHS AGO, a few soap companies began changing the central ingredient in their detergents from Alkyl Benzene Sulfonate (ABS) to Linear Alkylate Sulfonate (LAS). According to the trade organization, the Soap and Detergent Association, the transformation to the new product was completed on July 1.

But the soap companies offer no guarantee the new detergent will be the final answer to the problem. Even so, it should give all concerned an opportunity to clean up the foam which has been flowing out of the plumbing and contemplate the high cost of cleanliness.

First Baptist Church of D.C.



THE FIRST BAPTIST Church of Daly City was founded in 1957. Prior to moving into its new sanctuary at 542 Lisbon Street in 1961, the congregation met in the Mt. Olivet Cemetery chapel. The present pastor, the Rev. Charles R. Archer, has been First Baptist's leader since 1960, having completed his fifth year as pastor last month. He is the third pastor to serve the church. The church was a member of the Southern Baptist Convention until 1962 when it became an independent congregation. Membership now totals about 125 persons.

Pacific Parade

Starboard Ho For the Swedes

Don Miller

SEPTEMBER 3 will be a remarkable day in Sweden. Not only remarkable but traumatic. Although Sweden is a bit of a ways from the shores of our Pacific, we couldn't refrain from passing on this startling development to you.

Namely, on September 3, the Swedes will desist from a 200-year-old habit of motoring on the left side of the road—a distracting business that had confounded American tourists for some time now not only in Sweden but in the United Kingdom, Japan, India and a smattering of other nations as well.

The big day in Sweden will be known as "H-Day," the "H" standing for the Swedish word "hoeger,' which means right. On "H" day, just so everybody will be acutely aware that an old custom is about to be axed, all private vehicles will be banned from the highways.

Only police cars, emergency vehicles and tacicabs will be permitted on the road that day. And, of course, the drivers will be on the right side. At least those drivers who find habit-breaking a not too difficult chore.

THE LAST TIME the Swedes motored on the right was some 200 years ago when King Charles XII, obviously perturbed by Sunday drivers, forthwith decreed that his subjects should keep their horses, carts and the 17th century version of the fastback to the right-hand side of the road.

News that this Scandinavian highway upheaval was impending recalled the time we were in Sweden several years ago on a leave from Army chores in France.

We were three soldiers returning from an Easter weekend in Stockholm, jammed into a Volkswagen we had rented in Hamburg, Our destination was a port city where we were to take the ferry back to Helsinor, Denmark and ultimately back to Germany.

Since our Swedish currency had dwindled to starvation proportions, it was imperative that we reach the ferry landing in time to take the last boat back to Denmark that day so that our Danish currency would finance sustenance until the next leg of the journey.

As a result, the People's Car was being hurried at its maximum speed along, of course, the left side of the highway.

LATE IN THE afternoon, we came upon a bicyclist who has merrily pedalling smack, dab in the middle of the highway. As he loomed up on the highway ahead, we casually mentioned (at least we tried to make it sound casual) that we were in Sweden and that one passes another on a Swedish road on the right hand side.

The driver nodded knowlingly and we rapidly closed the gap between People's Car and person's bicycle.

Again, just to be sure the message had got through the first time, we reiterated the comment about the proper passing routine in Sweden. Again, the nod of assurance.

Suddenly, as if it were all a bad dream, we were passing on the cyclist's left side and, to compound the motoring felony, the driver sounded his horn.

Naturally, the cyclist, conditioned to puling to his left at the sound of a warning horn behind him, did precisely that and Volkswagen and bicycle all but merged forces in a scene that you would only expect to see in a Laurel and Hardy movie.

WELL, SIR, that astonished cyclist just plum stopped his bicycle in the middle of the road after we passed and stared after us as if we had just zoomed by him in a flying saucer.

Our driver was equally astonished that he had zipped by the cyclist on the wrong side and his only explanation was the habit had become so ingrained that although he had clearly heard our warnings, some inner automatic mechanism had predominated.

Maybe it's the suspicion that this sort of thing could become a national malady that prompted Swedish officials to declare a one-day moratorium on motoring before the big switch.

With 24 hours away from the wheel, motorists should have time to think this right hand stuff through carefully before crossing over to starboard the day after "H" day.

FOOTNOTE to a news story: When 675-pound Doris James died earlier this month in San Francisco General Hospital, Police Sgt. Tom Culley of Daly City remembered the difficulties police encountered when Miss James was involved in an auto accident in Daly City four years ago.

The woman was a passenger and became wedged between the front seat and the dashboard of the car in which she was riding. The only way she could be removed from the vehicle was by loosening the seat brackets and removing the entire seat by a crane.

It then took three policemen, two ambulance attendants and a bystander to lift the woman out of the car and into an ambulance. Culley recalled that she then weighed "well over 500 pounds."

Doctors said earlier this month that her weight had dropped to 350 pounds a year ago but then had soared. They added she had been a compulsive eater.

Better Business

Resealing Cost Hard to Predict

Lorene Beasley

AN INCREASING amount of complaints have been received by the Better Business Bureau from dissatisfied consumers who responded to advertising of "overhaul" or "repair" of transmissions at a featured price, ranging usually from $59-$75.

It is impossible for anyone to predict, sight unseen, what it will cost to repair, overhaul or reseal a transmission. The transmission must either be taken down, or, at the very least, be carefully road tested before any kind of reliable estimate can be made.

The average automobile owner does not understand what a transmission overhaul job entails in labor and parts. He is not familiar with all the component parts that are involved in the complex structureof a transmission.

It is not until he receives a bill for expensive parts that were not included in the ad that he wakes up to the fact that he has been a victim of advertising tactics that are nothing more than a COME ON deal to get him into the garage.

In many cases, the consumer is charged considerably more than he should have been —sometimes more than double the advertised price.

THE CONSUMER has a right to believe that he will receive whatever is needed to fix the transmission properly when he answers an ad featuring overhaul or repair at a stated price.

Resealing should mean that the car will be returned to him in standard operations condition, devoid of all transmission leaks.

The public should be informed if the advertised guarantee is for labor only, if it is for a limited time or if there are charges in connection with the guarantee.

A TYPICAL COMPLAINANT, answering a misleading flat price transmission ad, took his car into the transmission repair firm for a complete overhaul.

He expected to pay the low advertised price and the mechanic indicated to him that it would be an ordinary, small repair job.

The next day, the consumer was informed by phone that because of necessary extra repairs, the job would be $250 instead of the featured price.

The consumer advised the mechanic that he did not want the job done at that price and that he would pick up his car.

He was then informed by the mechanic that the transmission had been completely disassembled and it would cost $80 to put the parts back into the car. Also, there would not be a guarantee on this job.

IN THE ABOVE category and others, Better Business Bureaus throughout the country performed more than 3,500,000 separate instances of service to the public, busines and the professions in 1964.

In addition, they investigated 44,916 advertisements, held hundreds of trade practice information sessions and conferences and distributed millions of pieces of literature.

President Johnson has become the sixth president of the United States to recognize the value of the bureaus. Other presidents who spoke highly of bureau work were Presidents Wilson, Hoover, Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy.

WITH INCREASING government attention to consumer affairs, it is interesting to note President Johnson's comments in a letter to Victor Nyborg, presildent of the Better Business Bureaus.

"The American consumer has profited greatly from the bureaus' efforts to expose deceptive and unfair business practices."

"The long time support by our business community of the bureaus' drive for self-regulation and fair play for more than a half century is both a tribute to their own integrity and a recognization of the unique and significant role they have played in the development of public confidence in our free enterprise system."

RICHARD ATTENBOROUGH, a British actor of considerable talent, was in San Francisco en route to England following the completion of "Flight of the Phoenix" for Twentieth-Century-Fox. It was his first visit to the Bay City and he was traveling with his wife, former actress Sheila Sim and his 15-year-old son, Michael.

From the Top of the Mark he told us of the decision to appear in his first Hollywood film. "Frankly, I hadn't had that many offers but after "The Great Escape" which we made in Germany I was in demand from American producers.

Actually the actor-director-producer was well-known to American movie audiences before the studios discovered his box office appeal. Before making his debut as an American screen star he was honored as best actor of the year by the British Film Academy, based on his performances in "Guns of Batasi" and "Seance on a Wet Afternoon," which he co-produced with his partner Brian Forbes. They were also responsible for "The L-Shaped Room" and "The Angry Silence."

"Until now I didn't want to pull up roots. In the fifties I was playing juvenile leads (his first film was Noel Coward's "In Which We Serve" in 1942) and was soon after considered as a leading man. Then I was offered seven-year contracts by Warner Bros. and M-G-M but it was important for my career to stay in England."

"ACTING," he said, "is the ability to understand and lay bare human beings, their fears, apprehensions, things that distress them. It's an activity in terms of energy. If I cut myself off from these people, my surroundings, the everyday contact with the man on the street, I know it's deadly."

He emphasized this point by citing his feelings of unreality at driving down Sunset Boulevard in a Cadillac convertible. "Absolutely incredible, the change it makes in a person's outlook."

"Actors face the problem in Hollywood that they inevitably live in a small circle seeing the same people over and over. If you don't want to keep playing yourself in every role then you must understand the people living on the ground, those who have jobs to go to everyday."

THE SENSE OF achievement was gone from the actor's work when he found himself doing trembling psychopaths on the lower deck of Her Majesty's Navy ships or Cockney comics once too often. He formed Beaver Films with his best friend, Brian Forbes. Now he divides his time, and talent between acting, producing and directing.

"If we have been successful in our approach to film making, it's because we made microcosms of humanity in stories about insignificant people."

He decribed the terror, every one on the Yuma location of "Flight" had the day Paul Mantz was killed. "His last words were 'I see it, I see it' meaning the white flag marker that indicated the sand dune he was supposed to clear after a touch landing. We watched with horror as the plane fell apart in slow motion and the bodies went flying into the air."

Attenborough portrays the navigator on the ill-fated cargo plane which Jimmy Stewart pilots for an oil company in the Sahara Desert.

Tip Your Wig— Wake to the Dig

Samuel Chandler

THERE IS a story in Scholastic Teacher of an instructor who complained that her students hated poetry; so her principal gave them a piece by Langston Hughes:

"I play it cool,
And dig all jive
That's the reason I stay alive.
My motto, as I live and learn
Is to dig and be dug
In return."

The class erupted: "Hey, that cat's cool"—"Who's he?" and "Tough man; real tough." There followed a discussion in which the teacher learned some definitions that do not appear in the Oxford English Dictionary.

Cool means to be calm and collected; jive to tease. To dig the jive, however, means to understand. To stroll means to strut with a devil-may-care attitude; to dig somehing is to like it or understand it.

A current issue of Life Magazine gives others: Jive may mean to be phony. Terms such as cool, beat, beatnik, cat, crazy, fink and old hat are on their way out. Others like put-on, hang-up and cop-out are still okay because no one has devised anything better.

BOTH THE article in Life and the one in Scholastic Teacher advise adults who haven't "woke to the dig" to find some tolerant teenager to "tip his wig."

If obliging teen-agers are not around, the adult square can find some help in communicating with adolescents in the "Jazz Lexicon" by Professor Robert Gold of Jersey City State College. Its nearly 1,000 entries are arranged alphabetically and defined on historical principles.

One of Professor Gold's colleagues, Albert Goldman, suggests that an interesting way to read "The Jazz Lexicon" is to "watch how the words bunch around the prime values and how they spawn generations of synonyms, each peculiar to one of the periods that have occupied Americans during their teen-ages."

UNFORTUNATELY, such a dictionary is dated, before it is published, by the continual changes in teen-age jargon. This is a fact demonstrated in Gloria Steinem's "The Ins and Outs of Pop Culture," in Life magazine.

Although I was more confused after reading the article, I found something worthy of contemplation — a discussion on the teen-subculture in America.

Several references in the article to the nature of modern dances and the music that accompanies them brought to mind an article that appeared in the August 1964 issue of Atlantic. Here, Jeremy Larner states that rock 'n roll is an established part of American life.

"When the listener submits himself to the beat," Larner writes, "he loosens his mind from its moorings in space and time; no longer does he feel a separation between himself and his surroundings.

"The difficult world of external objects is blurred and unreal; only the inner pulse is real, the cat its outer projection. Earthy worries are submerged in a tide of rising exaltation. Dream and dreamer bind, object and feeling jell. The beat is where things unite and pound forward, rhythmic, regular, not to be denied."

LARNER'S article is a clear analysis that offers an insight to adults who will read it and understand it. It was abridged in the November 1964 issue of Reders' Digest.

An article by Peter Bart found in the May 1965 issue of Atlantic is entitled "The California Sound." In it the author contends that the California sound is not the noise of colliding automobiles, nor the snap of liberal books being roasted by the John Birch Society. It is a school of music that has been termed surfing music.

Other articles about teen-age music and talk are" The Jazz Revolution" by Nat Hentoff in the May 20 issue of The Reporter; "Hot, Cool, and All That Jazz," by Roy Hemming in the May 6 Senior Scholastic, and a piece by David Newman in the December 1964 Esquire.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Thanks for the splendid coverage which the Post gave our 31st annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. (The Post, August 4).

We're encouraged by the attendance at the fair and the comments we've heard.

We know that much of the credit for the fair's success is due to your co-operation and assistance.

We are always interested in improving the publicity programs of the fair so that we may do the best possible job for the fair and floral fiesta—and, at the same time, serve your needs and meet your requirements.

If you have any criticisms —or suggestions—please let me hear from you.

Again, our sincere thanks.

Dancin' Up a Storm at Temescal

A GROUP OF Daly City teen-agers dance the latest steps during an all-day outing at Lake Temescal in Oakland. The outing was sponsored by the Ticky Tacky Teen Club, which in turn is sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. The outing was one of a number of summer activities the department has organized this year.

D.C. Woman Honored By Lions Aide

Raymond H. Preble, governor of Lions' Clubs District 4-C4, last week presented Mrs. William J. Scanlon of 405 Lakeshire Drive, Daly City, an engraved plaque "in recognition of a distinguished community service."

The award cited a stage show produced by Mrs. Scanlon at the Daly City War Memorial Auditorium June 12 that netted $1,000 to help equip the new Mary's Help Hospital.

The show was co-sponsored by the Daly City Lions' Club and the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild of Daly City.

Mrs. Scanlon received the plaque at a meeting of the Caly City club last week at Toto's Restaurant.

Her husband is program chairman of the club. Preble's appearance was one of a series of visits he is making to Lions' clubs in his district, which extends from San Francisco to Palo Alto.

Terra Nova Pool Closes

The Terra Nova swimming pool will be closed Sunday for recreational swimming for the balance of the summer, according to an announceent by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department.

The department said a fall swimming program will be announced later.

The Pacifica Teen Club, sponsored by the department, will conduct a car wash from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday in the Shell Service Station in Paciifc Manor

Christopher to Talk on Coast

Farmland Appraisal Is Reduced

Acting on the contention that farm and ranch income in San Mateo County doesn't support the higher assessments levied on such land, the County Board of Supervisors has embarked on an equalization program in its current hearings of property assessments.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald said that, in general, the board is granting a 25 per cent reduction in assessed values for bona fide farm and ranch land, with a 40 per cent reduction going to such land that also is in belt zoning.

One dissatisfied member of the county assessor's office was heard to mutter, "Christmas in August," as the board started on its reduction program in the first day of four days scheduled for hearing assessment protests on farm and ranch land assessments.

A 40 per cent reduction for all farm and ranch land was granted by the office of County Assessor Ralph Woodman after protests were registered following the reappraisal program designed to raise all assessments in the county to 25 per cent of true market value.

Seeking further reductions, protests were filed on 128 parcels under 68 ownerships representing some 25 per cent of the county's farm and ranch land.

In general, farmers and ranchers contend that their values should be based on the productivity of the properties as farms, rather than on their theoretical sale value.

Supervisors, in their reduction program, have indicated they concur with this contention.

"The board feels it an inequality that income was not taken into consideration as much as it should have been," Fitzgerald said. "The (farm) income doesn't support the higher assessments."

While the farmers who filed protests will get reductions, those who didn't are apparently out of luck this year.

Woodman said that those who didn't file may be able to go to court. But, he noted, courts have held in the past that property owners cannot get relief in that method if they have not exhausted all legal remedies, i.e., filing of a protest in the period allowed.

Fitzgerald said that the problem of establishing assessed values should be solved next year when the Williamson Act, passed this year by the State Legislature, goes into effect.

Seek Funds For Concerts

Contributions to support a series of fall pop concerts in Pacifica, sponsored by the Pacifica Association of Performing Arts, are being accepted by the association.

Checks may be sent to Rod Linhares, membership chairman of the group, at 15 Acacia Court in Pacifica. Further information may be obtained by calling Vida Fassler at 359-4035.

Contributions of $10 or more will ensure listing of the contributor on the concert program, according to Mel Davis, president of the association.

$30,000 LESS

Changes Ordered For JKF School

Eight changes have been made in the plans for the proposed John F. Kennedy School in the Jefferson Elementary School District to bring the cost of the project within the limits set by the State Allocations Board.

The project had been estimated to cost $30,000 more than the board would approve.

Folding doors will be modified to be operated manually rather than electrically.

Chalk boards will be reduced and gavlanized metals will be left unpainted. Nine lighting fixtures will be substituted for 12 fixtures with no change in candle power output.

Louvered sunshades in kindergarten windows will be eliminated.

Acting Supt. Vinton Stratton assured trustees that no reduction would be made to the educational program of the school because of the changes. Trustees then rejected bids received on the school and voted to advertise for new bids.

The board approved an expenditure of $1,250 for landscaping the Vista Mar School slide area. Joseph Kaplan, district engineer assured the trustees that plants costing approximately $5 each (purchasing, planting, maintenance), had been selected for resistance to salt air and dryness.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas said he had reservations about the planting because of the failure of previous plants to grow. These plants had been recommended by highway officials.

Rotary Hears About Crime, Police Work

Members of the Daly City Rotary Club have received an up-to-date report on the nation's rising crime rate, the cost of police investigations and the difficulties law enforcement agencies are experiencing in obtaining convictions in the light of recent legal rulings.

The report was made in a talk presented at a luncheon meeting of the club by Capt. David Hansen of the Daly City Police Department. The club meets each Wednesday in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

Hansen said recent decisions by high courts lean too much toward protecting persons from being adjudged criminals.

The officer heads the police department's detective division. Last year, he attended a FBI training school in Washington, D. C.

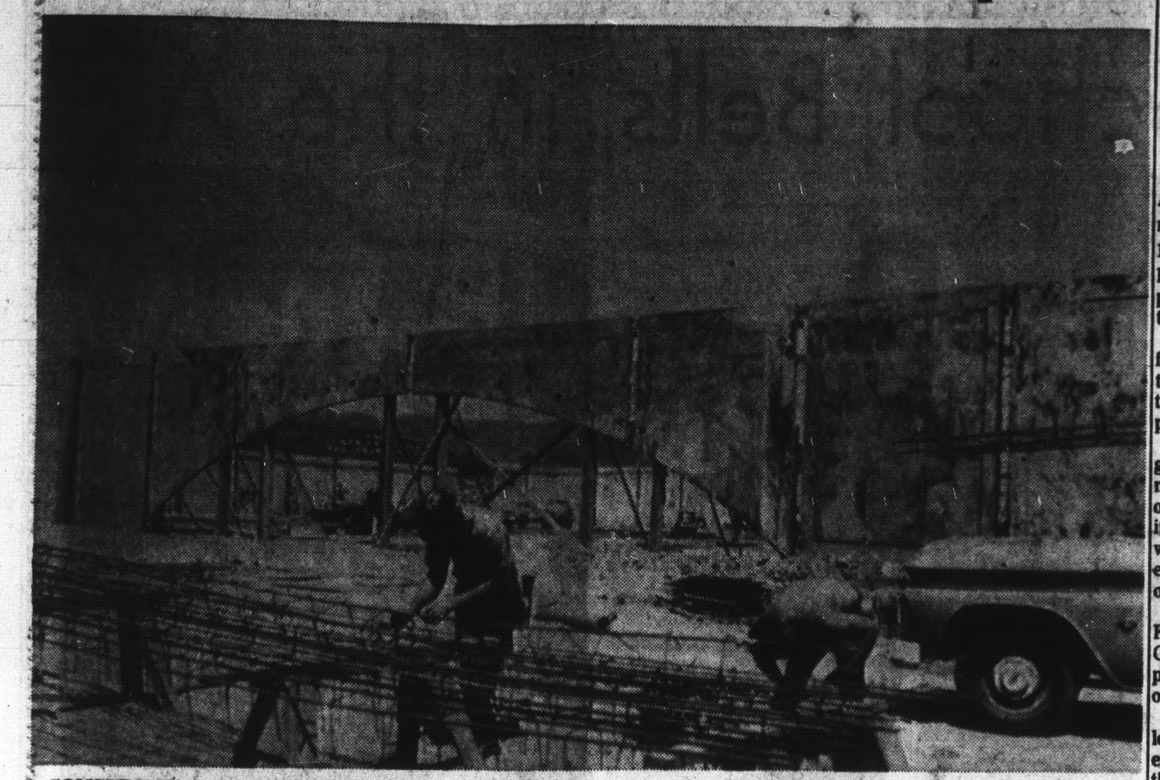
A New Store for the North County



CONSTRUCTION personnel work on concrete reinforcing rods near the main entrance of what will be the 21st White Front Discount Department Store in California, situated on the north end of the former Tanforan property in South San Francisco. Entrance archway, in rough form, frames South San Francisco's well-known hillside sign on the San Bruno mountains. The store will handle a wide range of ready-to-wear clothing, housewares and major and small appliances. The Harvis Construction Company is the general contractor.

S.F. Airport Garage Will Open Oct. 15

San Francisco International Airport's huge new parking garage will be open by October 15, Airport Manager George Hanson reports. Opening was previously scheduled for September 1.

Delayed by labor difficulties for a few weeks, the construction work has again returned to normal and is hurrying completion of the structure, he said.

Moving sidewalks from the garage to the airport terminals may not be in operation for another two weeks after opening, it was said, but moving pathways within the garage, and elevators, will be in operation on the opening date.

Hanson reported to the San Francisco's Public Utilities Commissioners while asking approval of nearly $100,000 worth of construction at the airport.

Commissioners agreed to allow Mercury International Travel Service to install lockers in the new parking garage, for 76 per cent of the gross monthly income.

Included in the projects was a $65,000 contract with Engstrom & Nourse for a temporary firehouse in Hanger Four, an $11,325 allotment to O.K. construction for drainage pipelines in the South Lomita Canal from Millbrae, a $17,611 award to Engstrum & Nourse for additional work required in the park ing garage signs and electric service connections.

The PUC also approved leasing several rooms in South Terminal to Western Airlines at $21,528 per year, and leasing Pier FF to Western for $108,000 yearly.

A $52,000 per year, 2½-year extension of the U. S. Post Office's Air Mail facility was granted.

Avant Garde Barbering

'Luxury' Shop to Open in Daly City

WHAT most men never thought would happen to men —razor cutting of hair, dying and tinting — will come to Daly City Friday.

The city's first luxury barber shop will open in the new Civic Center Plaza Building at Eighty-seventh Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard and will offer just about anything considered in the forefront of today's trends in barbering, according to Phil Rodella, manager.

His shop, he said, will have an appointment schedule for businessmen who desire immediate service.

PHIL RODELLA
Luxury Barbering

THE SHOP will employ a staff of men's hair stylists, trained at the San Francisco Barber College in all the latest barbering techniques.

For those males who think the "old-fashioned" way of getting a hair cut is still for them, regular haircutting also will be available, Rodella said.

The shop will feature these luxury appointments:

Semi-private booths in walnut tone and individual phone service in each booth.

Picture mirrors with gold frames to enable customers to closely follow the progress of their haircuts.

Deep-cushioned chairs on a dark, wine-colored carpet designed to provide a sense of relaxation for customers waiting for service.

Rodella said children will be given special consideration. They may have a regular style haircut or have their hair cut by one of the more advanced techniques.

He said appointments may be made by calling PL 6-6140.

Southern Pacific's Peninsula commuters are seeing a bright silver and scarlet coach in service on various commute trains.

It is operating in an experimental program to test the advisability of substituting cars of this type for some of the older suburban-type cars now in Peninsula service, according to L. G. Crocket, passenger traffic manager.

CIGARETTES TAKEN

Gerald Martin of 823 Schwerin Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that cigarettes had been stoken from his auto.

BBs SHOT

Paul Fay of 148 Flournoy Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had shot BB's at his house.

BUSINESS

Western Electronics Show Opens Meet in Cow Palace

One of the nation's largest technical-trade conventions opened yesterday at the Cow Palace in Daly City.

The Western Electronics Show and Convention (Wescon), which is held in this area every other year, will swell the region's population by more than 35,000 persons during a four-day run ending Friday.

Peninsula electronic leaders, working with about 400 volunteer committeemen, have led the way in planning for 1,000-plus exhibits, a concentrated program of technical presentations, and a dozen or more special and feature events.

The Cow Palace and all adjacent buildings are housing hundreds of technical product displays, student-engineer exhibit, industrial design exposition, and other activities and meetings.

In addition, small and large meetings and "sidebar" symposia will occupy most of the major San Francisco hotels during the four days.

Committee chairmen and vice chairmen head 14 working groups who have labored since January in putting together the pattern for Wescon. Four Wescon directors from the Bay Area have had overall responsibility.

Promotion Announced By Mayfair

Richard A. Nigh, formerly grocery supervisor of Mayfair Markets' Bay Area Division, has been named to the position of division manager.

In his new post, Nigh will be directly responsible for the operation of the 25 Mayfair markets in the Bay Area Division, including two stores in Sacramento and one in Reno, Nev.

The announcement was made by Irwin A. Schwartz, Mayfair's northern regional vice president, Nigh's predecessor in the division manager position.

Nigh, who attended Fresno State College, joined Mayfair's ranks as a store manager in 1956, at the time his previous employers, Black's Markets in Fresno, were acquired by Mayfair.

He was promoted to Mayfair grocery supervisor in 1960.

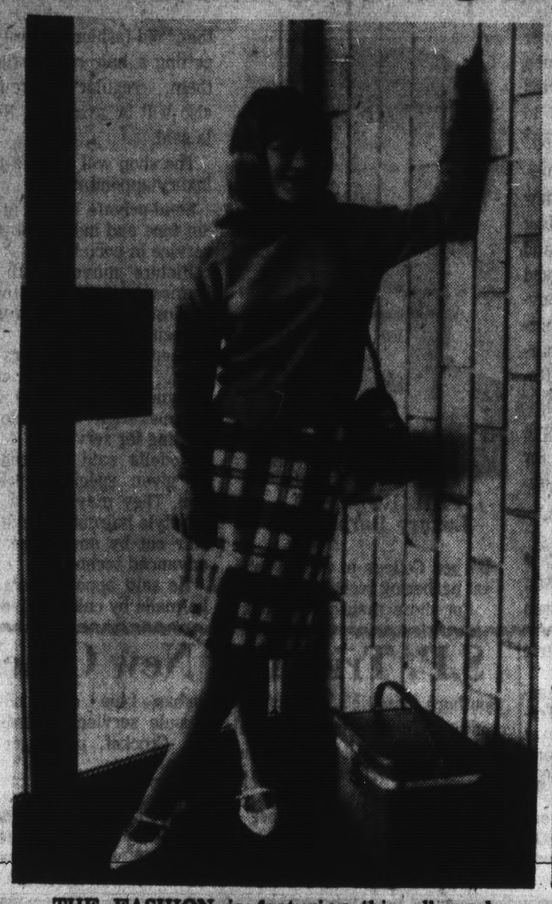
A Hint of Autumn, School Bells in the Air



THE FASHION is featuring this all wool "Wondermere" sweater at $14, modeled by Carlice Solovieff. The matching skirt at $15 is also all wool. Accessories include a "converto shoulder bag at $5.98 and a contintental train case at $18.95, both available at Mr. H. Luggage.

ELSA MARGO'S fall styles include this black and plaid one-piece dress. The sizes run from 9 through 13. The dress is priced at $16.95. Matching handbag and shoes and the wig worn by model Janet Hirschy were provided by Bloom's Fine Shoes.

SUE SCOTT Distinctive Apparel currently is stocking this all wool skirt in sizes 8-18, prived at $10. The sweater is a fur blend in sizes 36-40, priced at $12. Both sweater and skirt, worn by Giner Straight, are styled by Tami of California.

PAUSON'S model Lloyd Simi wears Haggar "forever-prest" hopsack pants at $7.95, an authentic all - cotton madras shortsleeve sport shirt at $6.95, an authentic madras belt at $3 and a mohair and orlon cardigan sweater at $16.95.

Westlake Merchants Present Style Show

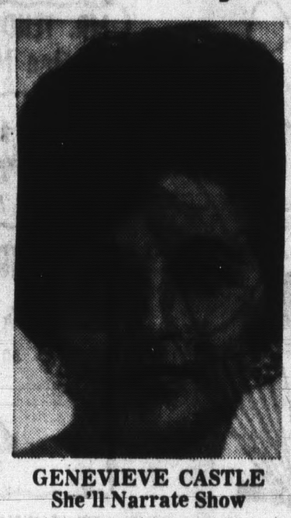
A HINT OF autumn and of school bells will be in the air Saturday when the merchants of the Westlake Shopping Center present their annual fall fashion show, geared primarily for the younger set.

Theme of the show, scheduled to begin at 1 p.m., in the center's mall, will be "back to school." Teenagers and collegians will be able to set an advance look at what the school-bound crowd will be wearing on campuses this fall.

The show commentator will be Genevieve Castle, style coordinator for The Fashion Store of Westlake.

The fashion parade itself will be directed and coordinated by Mrs. Jeanette Parkinson, style expert at H. Liebes.

THE ENTIRE SHOW, will be held outside on a specially constructed stage and floral ramp — situated in the middle of the center's mall.



GENEVIEVE CASTLE
She'll Narrate Show

All 91 stores and businesses in the center will participate in the program.

Models will wear clothes provided by such fashion centers as the New England Shop, Pauson's, Penney's, Casual Aire, H. Liebes, The Fashion, Jay-Vee, W. T. Grant's, Elsa Margo, Sue Scott Apparel, Lass & Laddie and Mr. H. Luggage.

AS A SPECIAL highlight of the show, piano virtuoso Rex Slissman, concert master for the Sal Carson Band, will provide keyboard entertainment before the fashion parade starts.

A former pianist with the shuffle rhythm orchestra of Henry Busse, Slissman has entertained at such well-known cabarets as the Top of the Mark, Club Lido and Italian Village.

He has appeared in stage shows in the Golden Gate Theater and has been associated with the big bands of Walt Roesner, Bud Moore and Joe Bovero.

Slissman will be at the keyboard, starting at 12:30 p.m. The fashion show will be open free to the public.

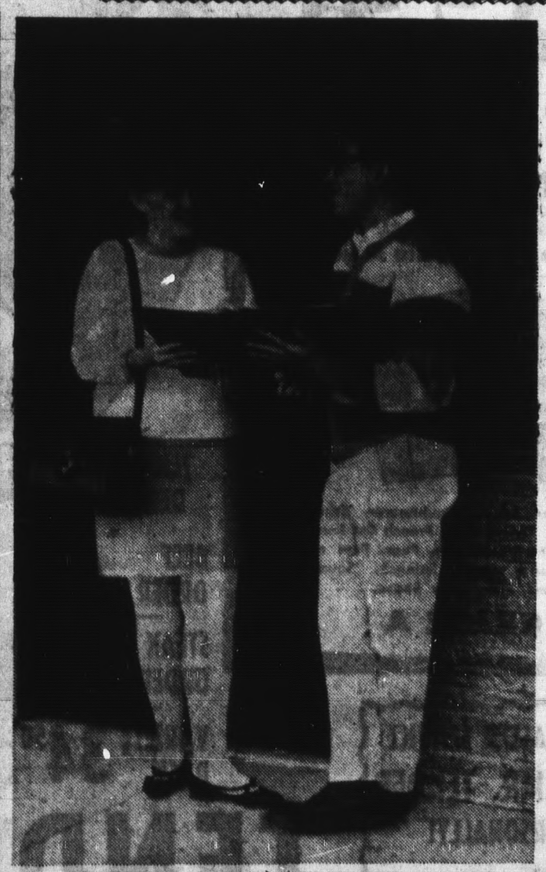
H .LIEBES is featuring the "Caurrege look," seen in this one-piece jumper in burgunday wool with white trimming, $17. A low hip belt completes the "look." Accessories worn by model Chris McCain include a little boy cap of white leatherette at $3 and white kid shoes at $14.95.

THE LASS AND LADDIE SHOP finds this back-toschool outfit one of the popular fashions in stock. Cheryl Nelson models a rayon acetate dress with mock bolero jacket by Youngland. Sizes are 3 through 6X at $7 and 7 through 14 at $9.

CASUAL AIRE SHOP model Lynn Bottarini checks the fit of this three-piece, Garland all wool outfit. The cardigan sweater is priced at $13, the shell sweater sells for $8 and the straight skirt is available at $12.



PENNEY'S back-to-school styles include an all-wool slightly flared skirt, three-quarter sleeve sweater and matching stockings worn by Marlo Brown, all at $30. Lynn Bassin wears a Towncraft cardigan of wool, mohair and nylon, $14.95, and never-iron slacks, $5.95.

THE NEW ENGLAND SHOP is featuring this imported blue lambswool sweater at 16.95, worn by model Bill Blum, a recent Westmoor High School graduate, over a yellow short-sleeved sport shirt, $5.95. The grey, permanent press slacks are $6.98 and the loafers, $17.50.

GRANTS fall fashions include this three-piece set modeled by Terry Mulready. It features a pleated wool skirt in black and white houndstooth check, a long-sleeved white crepe blouse with Chelsea collar and a contrasting wool vest. Junior sizes are 5-11, $12.99.

Friendly Visiting Service Director to Offer Speech

Indicating national recognition of the contribution of the Friendly Visiting Service of San Mateo County to social welfare and of its pioneer role in the West in friendly visiting, Mrs. Lewellyn Kumetat, Friendly Visiting Service Director, and Hazel Frost, visitor, have been invited by the American Hospital Association to participate in the association's sixty-seventh annual conference.

Delegates will gather from all parts of the country for the conference to be held from Monday to September 2 in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco.

Addressing the session entitled "Volunteers as Friendly Visitors," Mrs. Kumetat will speak on the history, program, and scope of San Mateo County's Friendly Visiting Service and will emphasize the use of volunteers in institutional settings.

Miss Frost, who has completed five years as a visitor, will discuss her weekly visits all through the year to nursing, boarding, and convalescent hospitals in the county where she has shown hundreds of her European travel films to residents.

The Hospital Association, composed of hospital administrators, departmental supervisors and other specialists, and which includes a number of doctors, was previously introduced to the Friendly Visiting Service which appeared several years ago in the association's nationally distributed magazine.

The oldest service of its kind west of the Rockies, the Friendly Visiting Service serves as a model for similar programs elsewhere.

It is a project of the Assistance League in co-operation with the Department of Health and Welfare and the Volunteer Bureau.

Also slated for the Friendly Visiting Service is the first fall luncheon meeting of the advisory board which will take place next Wednesday at the Villa Chartier.

Guest of honor will be Miss Frost, who will leave in October on a world tour during which she plans to take extensive travel films to add to her collection and to show to visitees.

The Friendly Visiting Program is based on organized visiting to the lonely, elderly residents of convalescent, boarding homes, and private residences, throughout San Mateo County.

Druids Initiate 6 New Members

Six new members were initiated by Golden Gate Circle 11 of the Druids in a ceremony in the Druids' Temple in San Francisco. The new members are:

Mrs. Floyd Aterburn, Susan Freitas, Dorothy Freitas, Barbara Stanfield, Alice Rose and Merle Longacre.

Past Arch Druidess Mrs. Arthur Jacobsen presided. Mrs. Joseph Oliver, arch druidess, conducted a business meeting. Irene Everson, the circle's musician, was honored at a birthday party.

Y Autumn Events to Be Aired

The fall program of the San Mateo County YWCA will be outlined at a gala open house meeting from 10 a.m. to noon Friday, September 10, in the Westlake Park Clubhouse.

The program will begin September 13. At the open house, visitors will learn about a potpourri of classes, clubs and special events sponsored by the Y for both preschool children, teen-agers and children and their mothers.

The Daly Y-Wives group will open their autumn program with a talk on wigs by an expert from Scissor Fritz Beauty Salon on Ocean Avenue in San Francisco. The talk will be given in St. Martin's Episcopal Church at 10 a.m. September 16.

In succeeding weeks, the group will tour the Spice Island Company plant and hear hints on buying Christmas presents.

In the journalistic field, "Party-Line," a newspaper written for and edited by teen-agerr, has been established under YWCA sponsorship with the co-operation of Westlake Bowl.

Information on all YWCA programs may be obtained by calling the Y office in the Westlake Shopping Center at PL 6-7370.

Champagne Lunch Set for Saturday

Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will be entertained by Mrs. Harry J. Johnson, president, at a champagne luncheon at her home, 252 Ferndale Avenue, South San Francisco, Saturday after noon.

Members will be asked to discuss the highlights of their summer vacations.

The luncheon will precede a short business meeting. Members will discuss manning a booth at a South San Francisco Boys' Club event October 1-3, as well as a schedule of meeting places and cultural programs through the end of the year.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN D. SCHULTZ
(Milton Mann Studios)

Dorothy Balestreri, John Schultz Marry

Dorothy Balestreri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Balestreri of 319 Winchester Street, Daly City, and John D. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Schultz of San Francisco, were married in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

The bride is a graduate of Mercy High School in San Francisco.

For the wedding, she wore an imported silk taffetta dress with an A-line skirt. An Alencon lace bodice topped the Empire waist. A detachable train was banded in Alencon and a matching lace headpiece had a silk veil. She carried a bouquet of philonopsis.

The bride's mother wore a jade green brocade Empire dress with matching jacket and accessories.

The made of honor was Catherine Balestreri. The bride was given away in marriage by her father.

The groom is a graudate of Riordan High School in San Francisco.

His mother wore a two-piece gold brocade suit.

The best man was Eugene Schultz and ushers included Ray Abeling and Edward Loreen. The Rev. Matthew Sullivan performed the marriage ceremony.

A reception was held at the Forest Lodge in San Francisco. The couple honeymooned in Las Vegas and will live in Daly City

Court Plans Autumn Style Show

"Fashions on Sunday" is the theme of the annual fashion show which Court Iffant of Prague, Catholic Daughters of America, will present on September 26 at the Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco.

The event, a brunch, will start at noon according to Mrs. Peter Andreini, chairman. Mrs. Joseph Fregosi is co-chairman.

Committee members are Mesdames Mario Raffaelli, reservations; James Ward, programs; Ernest Nebiolini, decorations; William Leary and Alve Fontana, models; Paul Carnoirano and Howard Viall, hostesses; Nello Sciandri and Dante Sciandri, special awards, and Gerald Quinlan, publicity.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

WHEN I WENT on vacation recently, I wanted to leave the stay-at-homes in my family some sort of dessert that would keep well. I decided on a fruitcake—first, because it's a great favorite of theirs and, secondly, it keeps remarkably well and lasts a long time.

As you faithful readers know, we feature fruitcakes in November ane I have quite a collection of recipes. Out of this collection I chose this particular recipe because it's very easy to make. I use a cake mixe as the base and the fruits require very little work in preparation.

After all, in November we are all in the mood for fruitcake baking and the extra time and care involved in making the more traditional variety is no problem. But this is August, and a quick and easy fruit cake just fits the bill.

EASY FRUITCAKE

1 package pound cake mix
1 cup chopped walnuts
¾ cup whole cherries
1 cup sliced dates
2 slices candied pineapple, sliced up
¼ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Prepare the pound cake as directed on the package. Toss together the walnuts, cherries, dates, pineapple, flour and lemon rind. Fold the floured fruit mixture into the batter. Turn into a greased and floured angel-cake pan.

Bake at 325-degrees for an hour and 15 minutes. Let cool for 10 minutes in the pan. Then turn out on a rack to cool throughly.

Former D.C. Duo Will Be Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Goege will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at a reception September 7 in Nelson, Ore., attended by family and friends.

The couple lived in Daly City for 20 years before moving to Oregon ten years ago. Members of the family will stay in Nelson for about a week during the observance of the anniversary.

Charter Presentation

WITH A ROW of candles providing a festive note to the occasion, the charter for newly formed Boy Scout Troop 137 in the Fairmont subdivision of Pacifica is presented to Troop officials by Ernest N. Casados, right, field director of the Boy Scouts of America, San Mateo Council. Receiving the charter are Lloyd D. Griffin, left, the troop scoutmaster, and James C. Nicholson, the troop's committee chairman. The charter was presented at the troop's first court of honor and tenderfoot investiture ceremony, held in Bethlehem Lutheran Church. The troop was formed in March of this year and meets at 7:30 p.m. Fridays in Fairmont School.

Parent to Talk About Children

Lilly Osborne, a teacher of emotionally disturbed children in the San Mateo School District, will speak at a meeting of the San Francisco Chapter of Parents Without Partners at 8 p.m. Friday, September 3, in the Downstairs Community Room at 3560 Geary Boulevard.

The topic of her talk will be: "These Are Our Children." A "food-n-fun" program will be held after her talk.

Symphony Hosts Chinese Vocalist In Bach 'Passion'

The well-known Chinese bass, Yi-Kwei Sze, will appear with the San Francisco Symphone Orchestra in the Beach "St. Matthew Passion" April 9, 1966, in a special, Easter Week, and in Pittsburg the next evening.

As a recitalist, Sze is considered a master of an extensive repertory which he interprets in six languages. He is generally believed to be the first serious vocalist to emerge from China and establish himself as an interpreter of Western Music in the grand tradition.

He studied at the National Conservatory of Music in Shanghai and sang with the municipal opera there.

Season tickets, as well as tickets for three symphony special events, which, in addition to the Bach, include the "Messiah" December 23, and "A Night in Old Vienna" December 31, are on sale.

Further information may be obtained by writing the San Francisco Symphony Association, War Memorial Opera House, San Francisco, 94102, or by telephoning UN 1-4008.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

THE FALL fashion show season is upon us and already there are specific details about a show planned for October 16 by the members of the San Francisco Alumae Chapter of Alpha Iota International Honorary Business Sorority.

The chapter and its work have received very little notice despite the fact that the members are drawn from this area as well as fromSan Francisco proper. Daly City's Mrs. James McCraney, the corresponding secretary, has been very kind about providing background on this organization as well as forwarding publicity for the fashion show.

Membership is restricted to women alumnae of superior scholarship, personality, and character and to faculty members of recognized business colleges, Mrs. McCraney reports. But, exceptions to this rule are made. According to Mrs. McCraney, two additional types of members are welcome with the approval of the board of governors. They are associate members and honorary members. Associates are women who have demonstrated their interest and service to the sorority and the honorary members are those who have been recognized for their professional ability, she said.

Alpha Iota's National philanthropic project consists of contributing to the cost of training for two chosen children" at the Institute of Logapedics in Witchita, Kan. It is for the benefit of the institute that the members are planning the fashion show and luncheon at the Hyatt House in Burlingame on October 16.

The institute, according to Mrs. McCraney, is a non-profit organization that trains speech handicapped children. In addition to the national project, Mrs. McCraney noted that the local members with the other chapters on the West Coast, have a special project—the sponsoring of an additional child at the institute so that he or she may receive specialized education and speech training.

Adidtional information about the sorority or about the fashion show, to which the general public is invited, may be obtaned by contacting Mrs. Clifford Taylor of 150 Sunshine Drive, Pacifica, or by calling her at 355-2788. Mrs. Taylor, president of the chapter, will be happy to discuss the sorority with any interested persons, Mrs. McCraney indicated.

PAPA, THE PACIFICA Association for the Performing Arts, is showing remarkable growth! The executive board has announced that it will have a tentative schedule of concerts ready to present the general membership at the September 8 meeting, according to an enthusiastic report from publicity chairman Mrs. Vida Fassler.

Plans are being formulated at breakneck speed by this group of people who proudly proclaim that they are determined to be a part of the cultural growth of Pacifica.

According to Mrs. Fassler, the unit accepted its constitution August 11—is now legally incorporated and is ready to do business under the leadership of President Mel Davis. Dr. Lucille Foster has accepted the post of finance director and Mrs. Jean Donohue is the vice president. Mrs. Estelle Dahlquist is in charge of the treasury and Pat West is the secretary.

Current plans call for two concerts by a 21-piece band, one concert by an organist and, to wind up the first Pacifica concert season, a concert by the Sixth Army Band.

Sponsors to help with the financial growth of PAPA and members who wish to take an active part in planning and preparations are still very welcome, Mrs. Fassler emphasis. To become a sponsor, one need only send $10 or more to Rod Linhares, membership hairman at 15 Acacia Court, Pacifica. Memberships are available to anyone making a contribution of any size and pledging to attend meetins and take an active part in PAPA's undertakings.

The general meeting September 8 will be held at the Laguna Salada School District office, on Reina Del Mar. Mrs. Fassler requests interested people should plan to attend.

MRS. MARGARET VANVICK Skyline Shopping Center's crusader for fine arts in our daily lives, has announced she has been able to secure a number of paintings by San Francisco's John Sackas for an exhibit in the Skyline Plaza's Crocker-Citizens Bank.

According to Mrs. Vanvick, the paintings, many of which were formerly included in an exhibit at the De Young Museum, will remain on display until the end of the month.

Also of interest to those who enjoy viewing fine canvases is an exhibit by Mrs. Vanvick, currently hung in the Bill Adams Realty office, also in the Skyline Plaza. One oil in particular is attracting considerable attention as an example of a style Mrs. Vanvick is experimenting with at the present. All done in various shades of green, the painting, Porto Portugal, makes a very striking display in the real estate office window.

AMONG THOSE who have recently returned from jaunts into the Sierra County wonderland to visit the Robert Morfords of the Westlake Music Center, are Dr. and Mrs. Louis Riba and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills and children.

Wedding Bells Rang

MR. AND MRS. GERALD MANIS

Penelope Lynn Tweedie, Gerald Manis Are Wed

Penelope Lynn (Penny) Tweedie, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert C. Tweedie of 1116 Nimitz Drive, Broadmoor, and Gerald Edmund Manis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Manis of 211 Village Lane, Broadmoor, were married in Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

The father of the bride, who is pastor of Broadmoor Presbyterian, performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Westmoor High School and San Francisco State College. She will teach in the San Bruno School District this fall. She is a member of Pi Lamda Theta, national honorary education society.

For her wedding, she wore an antique white poi de sois gown with chapel train. An illusion veil was held in place with an orange blossom headpiece. She carried a bouquet of formed white gladiola.

Her mother wore a turquoise-blue nylon chiffon, brocade sheath with matching jacket and hat and gold beige accessories. She wore a cimbidium orchid corsage.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Carla Tieseler. Bridesmaids included Connie Manis, sister of the groom; Janice Slatter, cousin of the bride; Carol Chancey and Francine Stanich. Flower girls were Laurie and Diane Tweedie, cousins of the bride.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Westmoor and plans to graduate from San Francisco State in January.

For the wedding, his mother wore a Persian pink dress of Italian silk and wool sheath with matching jacket and hat. She wore a cimbidium orchid corsage.

The best man was Scott Shakelford. Ushers included Tim Tweedie, brother of the bride; Ralph Cordano, Dietrich Tieseler and Tom Ottoman.

A reception was held after the wedding in the social hall of Broadmoor Presbyterian. The couple honeymooned in the Lake Tahoe area and will live in the Eastmoor Apartments in Daly City.

Senior Citizens Will See Movies

The Daly City Recreation Department will show movies at a meeting of the Daly City Senior Citizens Club at 11 a.m. today in the Lincoln Park Clubhouse at Acton and Brunswick Streets.

Last week, the club gained two new members. The club meets each Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse.

Welcome Tea Set By Bayshore P-TA

The Bayshore P-TA will sponsor a welcoming tea for parents and faculty members of the Bayshore School Disday, September 22, in the Bayshore School auditorium at 155 Oriente Street.

Mrs. Floyd Osterberg and a committee of members will be hostesses for the event.

Name tags and invitations were prepared by Mrs. Ernest Raffo with the assistance of Bayshore School students.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

SEPTEMBER 12

Jewish Center Dedication Set

Members of the Jewish faith will dedicate the new Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center, situated adjacent to Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way, at 2 p.m. Sunday, September 12.

Robert S. Borovoy, vice president of the center and chairman of the dedication program, said members of all faiths will be invited to attend.

Invitations also will be sent Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City, Mayor John Shelley of San Francisco and to representatives of the United Bay Area Crusade, the Jewish Welfare Federation and churches and synagogues throughout the area.

Former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher will deliver the principal address.

A tour of the building will be conducted after the dedication ceremony. Women on the center's board of directors and the wives of board members will host a reception after the tour.

A nursery school at the center will open Tuesday, September 7. Activities for other age groups will begin September 14.

A brochure, outlining the center's complete program, will be available at the center. It also may be obtained by calling 334-7474.

The center will serve the North County and Southwest San Francisco.

Mariners to Be at Helm

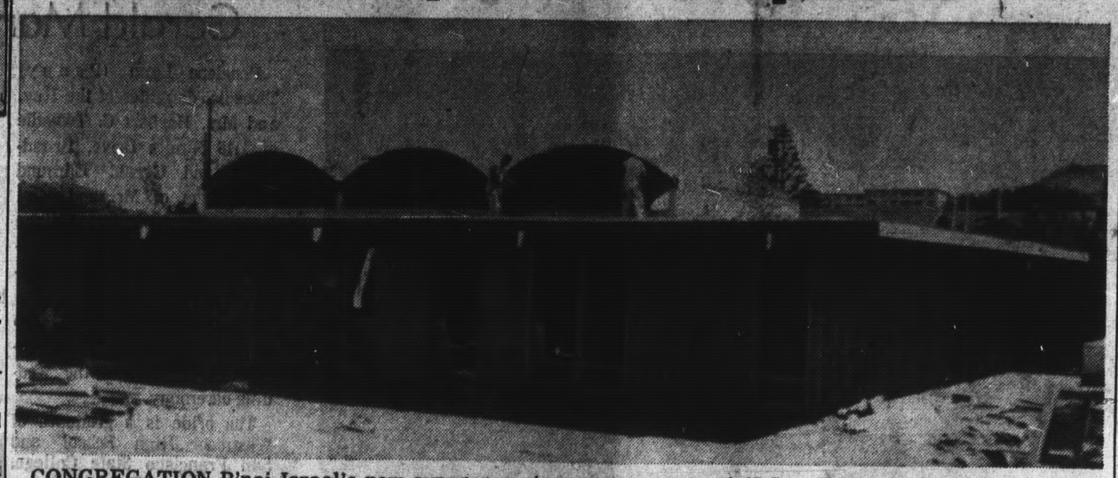
The Voyagers Mariners of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church will conduct the 10 a.m. morning worship service Sunday at the church.

Male members of the group will serve as ushers, Joan Anderson will be the greeter, Boris Stephen and Neal Amick will preside, Barbara Greene and Jean Amick will sing the duet, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and Ted Peceimer will speak on the topic, "Commitment."

After the service, the Mariners will sponsor a coffee hour.

The group is for married couples of the congregation. Couples interested in joining may call Neal and Jean Amick at PL 5-4569.

New Temple Nears Completion



CONGREGATION B'nai Israel's new synagogue at 1575 Annie Street in Colma is nearing completion. The one-story structure will serve the oldest Jewish congregation in San Mateo County. It replaces a synagogue at 67 Los Banos Avenue in Daly City that was torn down to make way for the Los Banos-Knowles Expressway. Cost of the new synagogue and the land is expected to exceed $100,000.

Camp Review Is Scheduled

Boys of junior high school age who attended a summer camp at Mission Springs will review camp activities at a meeting of the Family Fellowship Gospel Hour of Westside Baptist Church at 7 p.m. Sunday in the church.

Alton Swedberg, camp director, Ron Swedberg, counsellor and the Reb. A. David Donnelly, pastor of Westside Baptist, will discuss the camp's program.

At the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday in the church, Reverend Donnelly will speak on the topic: "No Respector of Persons."

Annual Red Mass Slated For Lawyers, City Aides

Msgr. William J. Clasby, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul's Church and retired air force chaplain, will be the speaker at the twenty-eighth annual observance of the Red Mass in St. Ignatius Church in San Francisco at 5:45 p.m. tomorrow.

Ordinarily attended only by judges and lawyers in their supplication for divine guidance, this year's ceremony will be held for all area city, state and federal employes under thw sponsorship of the St. Thomas More Society.

Archibishop Joseph T. McGucken will preside. The mass will be celebrated by Msgr. Donnell A. Walsh, vice chancellor of the archdiocese.

The Red Mass is named after the color of the vestments worn by the celebrant and its observance dates back to the 13th century in Paris.

The title of Msgr. Clasby's address will be "In Good Character." A veteran of 23 years of service as a chaplain with the air force, he retired with the rank of colonel June 1 to accept the pastorship of St. Vincent de Paul's.

D.C. Youngster Hit By Bicycle

A four-year-old Daly City youngster suffered a slight concussion last week when he was struck by a bicycle on the sidewalk in front of 6261 Mission Street.

The youngster, Michael Hill of 254 Irvington Street, was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco. Police said an eight-year-old Hanover Street boy was riding the bicycle. He was not hurt.

D.C. Firefighter Hurt as Grass Fire Burns 2 Hours

Daly City and Brisbane firefighters Saturday afternoon battled a stubborn grass fire that swept over about 100 acres on the San Bruno Mountains before it was extinguished.

One firemen was injured. Frank Barbara of 954 Schwerin Street, a volunteer Daly City firefighter was treated for burns about thhe eyes at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco.

More than 30 regualr and volunteer firemen from Daly City fought the flames. Six pumpers were used in the effort.

Daly City Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann said the fire started on a slope behind the Geneva Drive-In Theater on Geneva Avenue.

Under investigation, he said, were reports that motorcyclists, practicing on the hillside, may have been responsible for the fire. He said backfiring from the cycles, if they were in the area, could have set the grass afire.

The blaze lasted almost two hours. During the effort to extinguish it, all off-duty Daly City firemen were called in to man the city's fire stations while on-duty personnel were at the scene of the fire.

Pioneer Coast Cleric to End 25-Year Pastorate

By BERENICE PALMER

"WE WANT someone like you who preaches the gospel." These are the sentiments of the congregation of the old, Little Brown Church in Pacifica when members speak of a successor to their retiring pastor, the Reverend Herschell Harkins.

A tall man with an engaging smile and a slim, youthful build, Reverend Harkins has been 50 years in the ministry, 25 of them at the First United Presbyterian Church of Pacifica.

Sunday, he will prech his final service at the church.

Now, at 78, as he sits in the warm old book-lined rectory office, he looks forward to relaxing from his more active duties and spending more time being a "real shepherd" to his people.

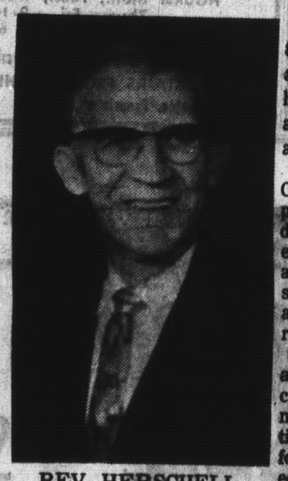
"Sharp Park was a sort of bootlegger place when I first arrived," he recalls. "The church was in disrepair; the windows broken. A student had been coming in to hold services. Pacific Manor was an artichoke field. The town was rough—sort of a place to escape from San Francisco. The church was not popular," (he grinned at the understatement) "there was quite a bit of opposition."

"I had really planned to retire but the people became so responsive. I went to work. It was the beginning of something. God guided me. I was in the right spot when needed.

"Of the original congregation, there are only one or two families left. Our membership today of 300 is a mobile one, always changing, moving."

THE CHURCH pulpit came from the Ozarks and was donated by a visitor.

A beautiful old oak table below the pulpit came from Tennessee. It is in memory of a member of the Landi family.



REV. HERSCHELL HARKINS
A Long Ministry

Each of the church's burnished wood benches has been contributed out of "a love."

"There is power in a little church like ours," Reverend Harkins maintains. "The bigger you build a cathedral, the colder it gets. The ministers lose touch with the people."

THIS IS something that has never happened to Reverend Harkins. He feels the present trend in religion is too much toward intellectualism.

"The ministers are not reaching the lost, the sheep who have gone astray. The well can take care of themselves, the rich, the influential. More time must be spent away from the pulpit.

"The people do not even want to take the time to come to church, so you must go to them—to the lost sheep in their pastures."

He feels that even ministers like Martin Luther King and James Pike are losing the common touch.

"I do not want to just vegetate when I leave but stay and continue to help — perhaps be pastor emeritus and also do a little writing, and a little good," he said.

He hopes the Little Brown Church will not change. The passerby will notice the open doors, day and night. The ever-open doors, the ever-available minister, the message of the Bible, these are a part of Reverend Harkins' religious philosophy.

The rectory book shelves are lined with Biblical encyclopedias, expositions, commentaries and interpretations of the Bible. "I have found everything I ever needed for a sermon in the Bible," he notes.

FOR HIS FINAL three sermons, he has chosen his favorite psalm, the twenty-third. "The guilt complex, I think, is a terrible thing. The phrase, "He restoreth my soul,' in the psalm takes in the whole idea of salvation. I want to leave something like this with my people."

Although his resignation has to be accepted yet by the Presbytery and the congregation, these are just formalities. "They didn't want me to leave, and there will have to be a unanimous vote—but, it is time."

Now, he will also have more time for one of his saddest duties, conducting burial services for the increasing numbers of dead soldiers being brought bck from Vietnam. 'These young men, so strong, so healthy. . . ." He shook his head.

Sunda morning, at his last service at the Little Brown Church, he will be joined by his brother. Together, they will sing a hymn specially chosen for the service.

A sensitive, kind and gentle man, Reverend Harkins. A good shepherd.

Seminar in Leadership Is Planned

A leadership seminar will be conducted Sunday for the board of trustees and the officers of the Brotherhood and Sisterhood of Temple Judea at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Mill Valley.

The seminar will review the major facets of administering a synagogue and its auxiliary groups.

In other Temple Judea news, the Religious School will open September 19. Irving Katuna, principal, said that a number of teaching innovations will be introduced.

The school this year will introduce a high school program for post-confirmands.

Temple leaders are making plans for the observance of High Holy Days next month. The services will be conducted in the temple sanctuary by Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter.

Fine Topping For a Good Fish Dinner

If you've had fish chowder in mind, why not go all the way—and top the meal with fresh peach upside down cakes? The luscious fruit is at its peak in local markets.

Fish Chowder Pilot Crackers
Salad Bowl Rolls
Fresh Peach Upsidedown Cakes

FRESH PEACH UPSIDEDOWN CAKES

- ⅓ cup butter
- ⅓ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons unsifted and 1 cup sifted cake flour
- 6 medium fresh peaches (peeled, pitted and halved)
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 3 large eggs
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 6 tablespoons hot milk

In a small saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; off heat add brown sugar and 2 tablespoons cake flour; stir to blend; divide evenly among 12 six-ounce custard cups. Place a peach half, cavity side down, over sugar mixture. Sift together the 1 cup cake flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and ivory color; gradually beat in granulated sugar, then lemon juice. Gradually fold in flour. Add hot milk and stir to blend. Turn batter (about 1-3 cup for each custard cup) over peach halves. Place cups on a cookie sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes. Cool cups on wire racks for 5 minutes; turn out on dessert plates. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 12 servings.

Cold Smoked Tongue Treat For Summer

Like tongue? This cold smoked tongue, served up with mustard sauce and green peas will give a summer supper that extra tang.

Cold Smoked Tongue
Mustard Sauce
Mashed Potatoes Green Peas
Fruit Salad Beverage

COLD SMOKED TONGUE

- 1 smoked beef tongue, about 3½ pounds
- Water
- 1 bay leaves
- 6 whole allspice
- 6 whole cloves
- 6 peppercorns

Remove covering from tongue; place in a large kettle and cover with cold water. Add bay leaves, allspice, cloves and peppercorns. Bring to the boiling point; cover and simmer until a fork inserted in the thickest part of the tongue penetrates easily; use wrapper directions as a guide to the cooking time. Drain and cover with cold water; allow to stand for ½ hour. Remove skin and cut away roots. Chill tongue and slice portion needed at serving time; cover remainder and refrigerate. Meaty portion of roots may be gound with any tongue leftover for use in a sandwich filling. If you know from experience that a particular brand of smoked tongue is saltier than you like, cover with cold water, and bring to a boil; drain; cover again with cold water, add spice and continue cooking as directed above.

Fresh Corn In a Skillet Tomato Dish

Fresh corn goes into a skillet tomato dish with celery added.

Meal Loaf Baked Potatoes
Tomatoes with Corn and Celery
Fresh Peach Pie Beverage

TOMATOES WITH CORN AND CELERY

- 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
- 1 cup whole kernels cut from fresh uncooked corn
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 to 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 to 2 tablespoons flour
- Salt and pepper to taste

In a saucepan, gently cook the tomatoes, corn and celery until the corn is tender and celery still crisp — about 5 minutes. Blend together 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon flour; add to tomato mixture; cook and stir constantly until thickened. If you wish vegetables thicker, blend and add another tablespoon each of butter and flour in the same way — thickness depends in part on how much tomatoes are broken up. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Gift-Wrapped Dogs: Camper's Delight

If you have young campers returning from a week of "roughing it," undoubtedly they'll relate tales of early-morning hikes, mysterious canoe trips and campfire cook-outs. To keep their spirits high, surprise your young folks with a camper's delight — frankfurters — especially gift-wrapped for their homecomng.

Simply substitute your broiler for the open-fire cooking. Stuff the frankfurters with cheese strips topped with a layer of Pickle and Peppercorn Relish. The succulent golden corn with sweet peppers, together with the special zing of mustard and celery seed, makes a hidden flavor treat when you gift-wrap the stuffed franks with bacon strips. Pop this surprise package under the broiler, then serve to your eager campers.

GIFT-WRAPPED FRANKS
Pickle 'n Pepper Corn Relish

- 1 12-oz. can vacuum-pack golden whole kernel corn with sweet peppers, undrained
- ¼ cup sweet pickle relish
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- ¼ cup prepared mustard
- ¼ cup sugar
- ⅓ cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons water
- ½ teaspoon celery seed
- ½ teaspoon tumeric
- 8 frankfurters
- 8 strips mild American cheese, cut approximately ⅜-inch thick
- 8 slices bacon
- Toothpicks

To prepare Pickle 'n Pepper Corn Relish, combine all ingredients in medium saucepan.

Slit frankfurters lengthwise; stuff with cheese stick and Pickle 'n Pepper Corn Relish. Wrap with bacon; secure with toothpicks. Broil 3 to 4 minutes on each side until bacon is crisp. Yield: 8 servings.

Chicken Pinwheels

Fresh Peach Pie Beverage

CHICKEN PINWHEELS

- 2 tablespoons plus extra real mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 cup finely chopped cooked chicken
- 1-3 cup finely chopped celery
- 6 slices thinly sliced white bread.

In a mixing bowl, stir together the 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, chili sauce and lemon juice; mix in the chicken and celery. Cut crusts from bread; slightly flatten slices with a rolling pin. Spread each slice with a little of the extra mayonnaise, then with the chicken mixture. Roll up in jelly-roll fashion. Wrap in plastic film or wax paper. Chill. Before serving, cut each roll into 6 slices. (Makes 3 dozen.) Arrange on serving plate and garnish with springs of parsley or watercress (or with small center leaves of chicory) and pimiento-stuffed olives.

Finland is the world's leading milk drinking nation, consuming fluid milk and cream at the rate of about 280 quarts of milk and cream per person. That's about two and a half times the U.S. consumption. Norway and Ireland are runners up. Their citizens consume about 233 quarts of milk and cream per person annually.

How to Mix Your Gravy

Who wants lumps in gravy? No one, of course.

How do you keep them out? Place the water, then flour for thickening, in a jar or mixer and shake until the mixture is smooth. Add this slowly to the meat stock or drippings, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened.

Fresh Fruit Bombe

This bombe is made by adding ice cream and sherbet in layers.

Curried Seafood with Rice
Condiment Tray Salad
Fresh Fruit Bombe

FRESH FRUIT BOMBE

1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 pint orange sherbet
1 pint mixed cut-up fresh fruit

Into a 1-quart mellon mold tightly pack the vanilla ice cream so there are no air spaces; level top. Over the ice cream, in the same way, pack the sherbet. Cover and freeze. At serving time, remove cover; run a small spatula around edge of sherbet; invert in center of serving plate. Briefly hold a wet towel wrung out of very hot water over mold; if bombe can't be shaken out, repeat briefly, but watch carefully or hot towel will melt ice cream. Surround with the fruit, or pass it separately. Fresh orange sections, seedless grapes, sliced nectarines and berries make a delightful combination to accompany the bombe. Makes 8 servings.

Dried Beef, Curried Rice

Add curry powder to boiling water (allowing 1½ teaspoons for each quart of water) when cooking rice. This makes a wonderfully tasty "bed" of rice on which to serve creamed dried beef for luncheon or supper.

If desired, the curried rice can be placed in a ring mold, then unmolded after forming, to be served with the creamed dried beef in the center, garnished with spiced apricots rolled in coconut.

Buttered Fish

Here's how to do justice to a fisherman's catch.

Buttered Fish
Shoestring Potatoes
Cooked Carrots and Celery
Fruit Salad Beverage

BUTTERED FISH

4 trout or similar fish (about ¾-pound each), cleaned and whole
Salt and pepper
4 small lemon wedges
8 tablespoons butter
Paprika

From heavy foil, make a small "boat" to hold each fish. Sprinkle insides of fish with salt, pepper and a squeeze of lemon. Cut 1 tablespoon of butter into 4 pieces and place in a foil container with a fish over it; top with another tablespoon of butter cut in 4 pieces; sprinkle with paprika. Use foil containers, remaining butter, fish and seasonings the same way. Bake on bottom rack of a very hot (450 degrees) oven about 10 minutes; baste fish; remove to top rack of oven and continue baking until cooked through and lightly browned—5 minutes or longer.

Assemble Ingredients

When you start making up a recipe, do what professionals do: place necessary utensils as well as mesured ingredients on a tray or cooky sheet.

It's not easily possible to forget important ingredients when they're measured and checked with the recipe. Neither do you have to be interrupted to go shopping for some supplies when you're right in the middle of mixing.

3 Jewish Recipes Are Favorites

The Catskill resort season is drawing to a close, but it can go on all year long in your kitchen, thanks to Institutions, a trade magazine in the hotel and restaurant field.

Institutions went to the Catskill resort hotels — as famed for their Jewish cooking as for their entertainment — and brought back recipes for such popular Jewish dishes that have become such all-around American favorites that Institutions decided to print some of the recipes in its August issue.

Although the recipes were devised in kitchens of famous hotels, they can easily be duplicated at home. If you want to make them on a smaller scale, the proportions can be cut.

Here are three recipes brought back from Catskill resorts:

POTATO PANCAKES

Yield: 25

8 Potatoes, medium size
3 Onions
2 tbsp. salt
1 tsp. white pepper
½ cup matzo meal
3 cups flour
6 Eggs

Grind potatoes and onions in a fine grinder. Strain off excess water after grinding. Mix in eggs and seasonings. Beat well; then blend in matzo meal and flour. Fry crisp in large frying pan, making medium pancakes.

MATZO BALLS

Yield: 25 Balls

½ cup margarine
½ cup chicken fat
1 cup egg
2 cups matzo meal
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. monosodium glutamate

Combine margarine and chicken fat and heat until just melted —take off heat. Pour in eggs stirring constantly, add seasoning and matzo meal. Cool in refrigerator for 15 minutes. Scoop out with No. 40 ice cream scoop, form into round balls, drop in slightly salted boiling water and cook for 30 minutes. Serve in chicken broth.

Note: If storage is required, cool and store in refrigerator in own liquid.

RED RASPBERRY BLINTZES

Yield: 6 blintzes

2-3 cup milk
½ cup flour
2 eggs, beaten
1 tbsp. all-purpose oil
1 tbsp. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
Margarine
Whipped cream cheese
Red rapsberry preserves

Combine milk, flour, eggs, oil, sugar and salt; mix until well blended. Batter should be very thin. Pour ¼ cut batter into hot, lightly greased skillet; cook until lightly browned. Remove from skillet. Spread browned side with whipped cream cheese; roll up, folding sides toward center. Before serving, heat in margarine. Top with preserves.

Blueberry Biscuit Roll Is Satisfying

On Saturday, why not serve Blueberry Biscuit Roll? It is easy to mix, and gives such satisfaction!

Barbecued Chicken Polenta
Spinach Salad Bowl
Blueberry Biscuit Roll

BLUEBERRY BISCUIT ROLL

1½ cups unsifted regular flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons plus 1-3 cup sugar
5 tablespoons firm and 1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
1 egg, slightly beaten
Milk
1 2-3 cups large fresh blueberries

In a mixing bowl, stir together the flour, baking powder, salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. With a pastry blender, cut in the 5 tablespoons butter until particles are fine. Add enough milk to the egg to make ½ cup; with a fork, stir into the dry ingredients. Turn out soft dough on extra flour on a prepared pastry cloth; with floured fingertips, knead until smooth. Roll out into a 10 by 8-inch rectangle; spread with the 1 tablespoon soft butter. Mix blueberries with 1-3 cup sugar and spread over dough leaving 1 inch from all sides. Roll up from the long side as for jelly roll; pinch together all ends. Place seam side down on greased foil in an 11 by 7 by 1½-inch pan. Cut 4 diagonal slashes almost across width of roll. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven about 40 minutes. Serve at once. We advise using foil in pan because fruit juices may bubble out.

Sweet Standby For Summer

With a frosty pitcher of iced decaffeinated coffee on hand, you are ready to offer a heartening summer drink to guests of all ages — morning, noon, or night. Plain ice will dilute the coffee, so have Coffee Ice Cubes handy. To make these, pour about 3 cups of brewed decaffeinated coffee into an ice cube tray and freeze until firm. For ice cream buffs, top each cool glass of coffee with a scoop of ice cream, or make this creamy-good refresher.

Coffee Frosted
2 cups brewed Sanka Coffee, chilled
1 pint vanilla, coffee, or chocolate ice cream
Coffee Ice Cubes

Combine coffee and ice cream in shaker, glass jar, electric blender, or bowl. Shake, blend, or beat with rotary beater until thick and fluffy. Serve over Coffee Ice Cubes in tall glasses. Makes 3 cups or 2 large servings.

Low Calorie Salad Platter

Summer's bounty from the vegetable garden provides the makings for many brightly colorful salad combinations. For a change from the tossed salad routine, display an assortment of fresh vegetables, both raw and cooked, row by row on a shallow serving platter.

Dress the salad with a sweetly tantalizing, herb-seasoned vinegar marinade. Then hide it away in the refrigerator overnight so that the marinade permeates the vegetables, and the salad becomes deliciously cold.

The following calorie-controlled recipe derives its delicate, natural-tasting sweetness from the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than sugar. As a result, total calories per serving are cut to less than half. Sweet figuring for waistline watchers!

Vegetable Salad Platter
(Low Calorie)

8 cooked asparagus spears
2 small tomatoes, quartered
1 cucumber, sliced
1 large carrot, sliced
1 cup uncooked, small cauliflowerets
½ cup tarragon vinegar
½ cup water
1½ teaspoons Sucaryl solution
¾ teaspoon seasoned salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dried basil

Arrange vegetables in rows in shallow, rectangular serving dish. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over vegetables. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Raisin Brunch Loaf With Instant

Without fear of contradiction, we'd be willing to say that there is nothing quite so marvelous as the tantalizing aroma of baking bread. Agreed? As that very special fragrance wafts through the house, your admiring public is likely to drift even faster toward the kitchen for a first taste.

And what a taste they'll enjoy when they bite into this moist, rich Raisin Loaf! It's a quick bread in every sense: made in one bowl by a series of easy steps with foods designed to work for you.

Here's a chance for you to try out that new instant blending flour you've heard so much about . . . just measure it from canister to mixing bowl. No sifting is necessary and what a fine texture it will give you!

The raisin flavor comes from a can of raisin pie filling, combined with a little orange marmalade. The resulting bread is quite delicious, a treat you'll want to make often for brunch, the ladies' "salad luncheons" or a neighborhood kaffee klatsch.

Raisin Brunch Loaf

1 cup brown sugar
½ cup margarine
3 eggs
¾ cup milk
½ cup orange marmalade
1 No. 2 can (2 cups) raisin pie filling
5 cups instant blending flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon allspice
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup chopped pecans

Oven: 350°.

Grease and flour bottoms of two 9x5x3-inch pans. Cream together brown sugar and margarine. Blend in eggs, milk, orange marmalade, and pie filling. Add flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and allspice; blend well. Stir in nuts. Pour into pans. Bake at 350° for 55 to 65 minutes, or until wooden pick inserted in middle comes out clean. Cool and remove from pans; wrap in foil to store or freeze. Makes two 1-lb. loaves.

Marmalade Oat Flake Muffins

Chilled orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, milk, and these warm, tender muffins form a tempting, adequate breakfast.

Oat Flake Muffins have somewhat chewy texture and nice grain flavor. Bittersweet marmalade baked in the centers contributes a surprise element that's altogether delightful. They are the kind of appetite-stirring bread to prepare on a mid-summer morning when it seems just too hot to eat. Good accompaniment are fruit, breakfast cereal, and milk. This foursome assures a light, modern basic breakfast that will provide quick and lasting energy. The whole family will enjoy it, including the cook, for the muffins go together so quickly.

Marmalade Oat Flake Muffins

1½ cups sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup milk
¼ cup melted shortening
1 cup oat flakes
¼ cup marmalade or preserves

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Combine egg, milk, and shortening. Add to dry ingredients, blend just until dry particles are moistened. Fold in oat flakes. Fill greased muffin pans (2½ x 1¼-inch) ⅓ full. Spoon a teaspoonful of marmalade or preserves onto each and top with remaining batter, filling pans about ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (400°F) until lightly browned, 20 to 25 minutes.
Yield: 12 muffins.

It's 'Chef Ahoy' With Tobasco

After a day of boating in the fresh air, sailors and "stink potters" alike boast the biggest appetites afloat. Once the anchor's dropped, the leading question is, "What's cooking in the galley?"

'Tis a seaworthy chef who has this Galley Gourmet Meat Loaf and vegetable dish ready and hot.

Galley Gourmet Meat Loaf

2 pounds ground beef
1 teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons butter

Combine ground beef, Tabasco, instant minced onion and salt. Shape into 1 large patty. Heat butter in skillet, add patty and cook over low heat about 15 minutes on each side. Serve with Tabasco Vegetable Medley. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Tabasco Vegetable Medley

1 package (10 ounces) frozen corn
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas
1 large tomato, diced
½ teaspoon Tabasco
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine thawed corn and peas, tomato, Tabasco, salt and butter in skillet with meat loaf or small saucepan. Stir and heat to serving temperature. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

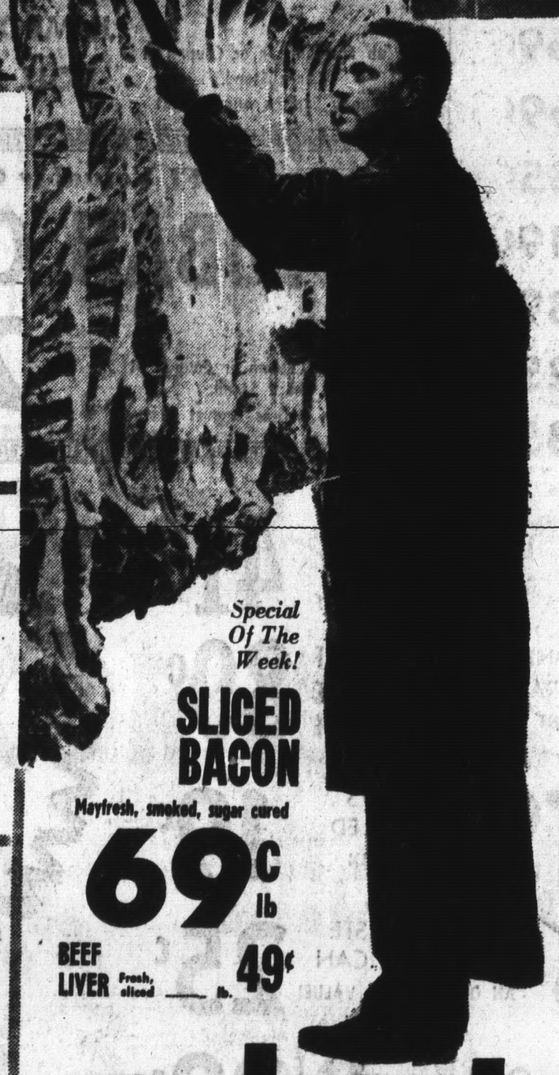
"..OUR MAN IN THE COOLER.."



. . . is the man directly responsible for the consistently high quality of Mayfair's Blue Ribbon Steer Beef. Each side of beef is selected individually according to Mayfair's own rigid standard of value, appearance, and eating quality! Our Man In The Cooler knows his business. He has to . . . because Mayfair's meat reputation depends on his experience, his keen eye and sure judgment. (Don't envy his working conditions too much: remember, it's just as cold in the winter.)

Waiters At Attention When Tom Gerun Enters

PLENTY OF ACTION at BRUNO SCATENA'S JOE'S OF WESTLAKE, last Sunday evening—what with "roly poly" CHEF FRANK BADLACCI, a 21-year broiler man for Bruno, tending to his chief duties while giving a counter customer (YOURS TRULY) a rundown on the GIANTS Baseball Game—with all gestures which included a "hook slide." "KELLY," the waiter, was off on Sunday, so I missed my favorite Damon Runyon "character." Highlight of the evening was when dapper TOM GERUN, and his party, arrived for dinner. Almost every waiter in the restaurant stood at attention or waved a hello. By the time Tom finished shaking hands with many of the diners he knew and acknowledging the waiters' greetings, he must have really had an appetite. Years back, Tom and FRANK MARTINELLI, SR. owned and operated the BAL TABARIN nitery which was located on the present site of BIMBO'S 365 in San Francisco. Several of the Joe's of Westlake waiters were then members of their staff. Tom is now "goodwill ambassador" for the Las Vegas SANDS HOTEL, along with HENRY CHERRY.

JACK "JIVE" SCHAFER and his Variety Show open yesterday in Nero's Nook at the Palo Alto CABANA HOTEL for a three-week engagement. "Jive" received his name from Benny Goodman, Harry James and the late Glenn Miller, for whom he played trumpet. His musical mayhem has entertained millions throughout the world. LOU STEVENS AND TRIO continue with Friday and Saturday night dancing in the Bon Vivant Room at the Cabana. . . . ERNEST PETINAUD, the maitre d' at the Congressmen's Dining Room in Washington, D.C., selected ORESTE'S as the first restaurant to dine when he was the guest of HENRY JAMES, last week. Ernest informed HENRY that he heard some mention of Oreste's when Mayor Shelley was a congressman and that he was looking forward to dining there. After the dinner, his decision was that San Francisco and Oreste's food are tremendous! . . . VERRILL, top Limbo dancer, has joined the Topless Revue at the MOULIN ROUGE.

SIL OLIVA'S EXPOSITION FISH GROTTO hosted the crack SEATTLE FILIPINO DRILL AND BALLET TEAM upon their return from a whirlwind Eastern tour. While in Washington, the talented group entertained PRESIDENT JOHNSON and high government dignitaries. Upon leaving San Francisco, they had nothing but praise for the food and service Sil whipped up for the special occasion . . . THE GALAXIE has a new Swim group from Vegas and Hollywood — THE FRIARS, who, with songstar GAYLE HARRIS, TOPLESS TERI and the Galaxie's TOPLESS SWIM GIRLS, present the liveliest show on SF's Broadway . . . Metropolitan Life execs held two dinner parties at PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY: One, led by BOB LEVY, in the Chandelier Room, other in the main dining room. . . . Two show biz names had a verbal ball gabbing between shows when GYPSY ROSE LEE and SALLY RAND got together to talk about old times at GOMANS'S GAY 90'S, where Sally is now breaking all records.

VISITED WITH FRANK TORRES, the "mayor" of Montara Beach, last Sunday afternoon, and was amazed at how much weight he's lost—really trim! Have known this genial gent for 15 years and he looks the same as when we first met. Why not plan a dinner-dance session here this weekend and make Papas Rellenos, an excellent Peruvian dish, the order of the evening. . . . LUCKY 21 starts again Sept. 8, and will operate three days a week—Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 9 a.m. Still included are the meals, lodging, transportation and cocktails. Plus the Lucky 21 Tour is returning back home to the GOLDEN CASINO for a four-hour stay and dinner on the second day, in downtown Reno. Lucky 21 tickets are available for still $21.00 for two at 1050 Van Ness, San Francisco, or phone TU 5-4321. . . . The VILLA HOTEL 24-hour coffee shop now under construction, will have a cocktail lounge and possibly a pianobar.

"Gals Galore" At Big Al's

One of the most exciting and talked-about shows in San Francisco emanates from Big Al's. Taking the top spot is Russ Arno, one of Frank Sinatra's greatest singing discoveries, with "Gals Galore" for a beauty backdrop. Al, himself, is a character out of fiction. He's always on hand to bring back memories of Chicago and the "speak easy" days.

Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), offers free radio-dispatched bus service to and from your motel. This is just another convenience when spending a vacation in the fun-land of Nevada.

The food fame of the Castaway on Coyote Point is spreading far and wide. The latest to inform me that they were planning a dinner here, Helen and Karl Reach, who operate the San Jose Cafe del Rio. Included in the dinner party will be Fannie and Frank Torres of coast restaurant fame.

Banquets prepared in a popular price bracket is a specialty at Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli. Five rooms from which to choose.

Chef Williamson Prepares Food

Sign atop the former Keith's in Burlingame now reads "The Western Fryer Chicken and Steak House." You guessed it! New management, with Owner Chuck Williamson in charge of the kitchen production. Same prices, menu, and eat-in or take-out policy.

Now's the Time For The Taj

Now's the time for you to enjoy a luscious meal in an impeccable restaurant — meaning The Taj of India. Featured is a "Tandoori Mixed Grill" (marinated and broiled chicken, lamb and seafood), served with a variety of chutneys and condiments. Need I say more? The Taj is open nightly.

The Hillsdale Inn seems to be a bright spot for visiting stars. Seen dining here the other early eve were Jose Ferrer, Howard Keel, Ray Milland, and one of my all-time favorites, Judy Garland.

If you haven't visited the Bavarian Inn since their remodeling, you're in for a pleasant treat. It's the most unique German-style restaurant in the area—"serving food to match."

Leaning Tower Not Open Sunday

Made a "boo boo," last week—and a bad one. Joe Ercoli called to remind me that his Leaning Tower restaurant is not open seven days a week, as I had mentioned. Sunday is their day off. Bar and restaurant are both closed. Sorry, Joseph, I must have been carried away when telling the folks how wonderful your food is.

Benjamin Franklin Hotel's Raymond Cook figures that he will end the year just about right on his diet—if he doesn't eat anything at all after the middle of August.

Just What Nick Needed—The Ocean

Lorraine and Nick Gust spend 365 days a year at their busy Pacifica restaurant which is located only a stone's throw from the Pacific ocean. So, for a vacation, they flew to, not Las Vegas or Colorado, but to Honolulu and the beach at Waikiki.

As Vocalist Mary Ann Hay said, "Now we can send messages to Nick via notes in a bottle.

Did you know that you can take out complete dinners at Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant? Well, you can — from soup to steaks. Just a few steps across the large free parking lot puts you at the door of the Delicatessen and Fish De-

Take particular note of the soft murals at George Mardikian's Omar Khayyam's restaurant during your next "Shish Kebab" visit. They depict stanzas from the Rubaiyat and are the work of the Tadjvidi brothers of Teheran, considered to be the best in Iran today.

Lobster Tail a Romano's Special

For many years I have been mentioning Enrico Romano's restaurant in Bright Lights column, and headlining him as the "pizza king" — which, in my book, he is.

But it wasn't until last Friday during dinner here that I discovered a new house specialty had been added. Namely, Broiled Lobster Tail Miraton, served with cream sauce, mushrooms and wine. Believe me, this tasty dish deserves your next Romano's-dinner attention.

Restaurant is open daily from 4 p.m.

Whenever "Oscars" are passed out for outstanding merits in chefing, one should go to Maurice Brossier, co-owner of the Burlingame La Touraine French restaurant.

Lew Lehr installed a new "time - savings" bookkeeping system at his Marina steak house. Result: His wife, Edith, who keeps the books, says she's never worked so hard in her life!

D.C. Suspect Is Committed

A Daly City woman who allegedly embezzled $124,000 from the firm where she was employed as a bookkeeper for a 2½-year period has been sent to the state medical facility at Corona State Prison for a 90-day period of observation and diagnostic study.

On motion of Joseph Murray, attorney for the defendant, Mrs. Gloria H. Dalzelle, Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis granted a stay until September 2, before Mrs. Dalzelle has to report to the prison.

Judge Dematteis noted in court Friday, however, that the actual amount taken was over $124,000, and that Mrs. Dalzelle had made restitution of $30,000.

False Grey Beard, Brown Makeup Aid D.C. Bandit

A bandit wearing a false grey beard and brown makeup on his face held up a Daly City grocery shortly after 9 p.m. Friday and escaped with $300 to $400 in receipts and $300 to $500 in blank money orders.

Four customers were in the store, the Budget Grocery at 6001 Mission Street, when the bandit poked a .25 caliber automatic at Silvio Olcese, 36, of 40 Corte Alegra, Millbrae, a clerk, and threatened:

"Don't anyone move, man. This is a hold-up, go to the back."

Olcese told Patrolman Charles Phillips that the robber had called him by his first name several times during the course of the holdup. He said the bandit fired two warning shots while he was in the store.

Investigators said that thieves had tried unsuccessfully to break into the grocery the previous day.

Work-Furlough Program Urged

The San Mateo County Grand Jury has recommended that the county take action "at the earliest practical date" to establish a work-furlough program in Redwood City for prisoners in the county jail.

Rescue Role Gains Honors

A South San Francisco fireman has been honored by San Francisco Mayor John F. Shelley for his part in the rescue of a firefighter from the burning seventh floor of the Morris Plan Building in San Francisco September 23, 1964.

Pacheco received a meritorious award from Shelley at a ceremony in the Fire Commission meeting room in San Francisco City Hall.

D.C. Girl Is Injured

A 17-year-old Daly City girl suffered minor injuries when the auto in which she was a passenger and another car collided at Westmoor Avenue and Skyline Drive in Daly City about 7:25 p.m.

The girl, Sharon Martinelli of 4 Seaview Drive, was treated at Peninsula Hospital for a bruised shoulder and lacerations and discharged. She was riding in a car driven by Martin J. Bilafer, 16, of 125 Coronado Avenue, Daly City.

Police identified the driver of the other car as Richard R. Riley, 17, of 195 Park Plaza Drive.

LARGE ENROLLMENT AT HILLTOP BEAUTY SCHOOL

The school, operated by Lloyd and Emily Chamberlain, is now in its fourth year of business. It recently added a new mezzanine floor to accommodate its ever growing enrollment, as well as its growing list of customers. The institution is approved by Veterans Administration for College Assistance. It is located at 6317 Mission Street.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That the County Planning Commission of the County of San Mateo, State of California, did, by resolution thereof, adopted at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 11th day of AUGUST, 1965 after following the procedure specified by law, approve a certain amendment to Part I, Division VI of the San Mateo County Ordinance Code, being the Land Use Plan Ordinance of the County of San Mateo, and did adopt the same as an amendment to the Master Plan of said County, and did recommend that the Board of Supervisors of said County adopt said proposed amendment, which amendment is as follows:

That Section 6115, Sectional District Map No. 13.2 (8) of the County of San Mateo, State of California, be amended so as to reclassify

Parcel "C", Tract 822, Neighborhood 2, Unit 1, of Foster City from R-3/S-3 (Multiple-Family Residential—1,250 square feet minimum lot area per dwelling unit) district to H-1/SS-113 (Limited Highway Frontage—Special Regulations) district.

Minimum lot area per dwelling unit: 800 square feet.
Minimum building site
Average width: 200 feet.
Minimum Area: 3 acres
Minimum yards required
Front: 1 foot.
Side: 20 feet.
Rear: 20 feet.
Maximum height permitted
First and second stories: Not to exceed elevation 117½ (Foster City Datum).
Third story and above: No limit.
Maximum building coverage
First and second stories: 80% (Provided that all roof area is usable for active and passive recreation).
Third story and above: 20%.

as said amendment is shown on a map entitled, "Proposed Amended Sectional District Map No. 13.2 (8) of the Land Use Plan Ordinance of San Mateo County," a certified copy of which map is on file in the office of the Secretary of said Planning Commission at the County Office Building, Redwood City, California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN: That said Board of Supervisors in regular meeting assembled on the 17th day of August, 1965, did set a certain time and place for a public hearing on said proposed amendment, at which time and place all persons interested therein may appear and be heard thereon, which time and place is as follows:

At the hour of 2:30 P.M. on the 14th day of SEPTEMBER, 1965 in the Chambers of the Board of Supervisors in the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California.

JOHN A. BRUNING, County Clerk and Ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California.

Want ads make it easy...

Picture the hours of pleasure the "engineers" in your family will derive from an electric train all set to roll. This happy trio is fascinated with the completeness of their layout which became possible when they purchased it the easy way — through a Times-Post Want Ad.

Happy, too, is the family now enjoying a pool table in their basement recreation room. They were able to sell the no-longer used train set for cash the easy way — with a low-cost Want Ad.

A Queen Is Crowned

SOCIETY HEAD VOICES HOPE

Pacifica Seen as Fuchsia Capital of the Republic

By BERENICE PALMER

PACIFICA MAY be well on its way as the fuchsia capital of the nation because of its climate and ideal growing conditions.

This hope was expressed by Mrs. Genell Curkendahl, president of the Pacifica Fuchia Society, in a talk at the annual Fuchsia and Art Show Fiesta over the weekend.

The Sanchez Adobe historical monument in Linda Mar and its grounds, were the site for the yearly colorful display of fuchsias, art and ceramics.

Fuchsias of every conceivable size, color and variety cascaded from the Sanchez Adobe balcony and from hanging baskets throughout the exhibit grounds. They were also exhibited in many unusual ways.

ONE TABLE contained a decorative assortment of fuchsia bouquets immersed in sealed globes of water, as well as leis.

Marguerite Harrje of Millbrae demonstrated the art of making fuchsia flowers into tiny circus riders on toy horses for a minature merry-go-round.

Sherri Thomas of the Pacifica Art Guild exhibited art stationery, designed with dried and pressed fuchsias on translucent paper.

Elijah Gentry, whose fuchsia garden at 412 Fremont Avenue, Pacifica, turned from a "hobby into a business," descirbed a new garden at the front of the exhibit grounds.

This garden of hybrid fuchsias was created by the society and will be donated to the Sanchez Adobe as a permanent exhibit.

In it can be seen the tree-like Glendale fuchsia, a varigated red leaf called Tom West, and a large double white fuchsia, Alaska.

This, and a similar new white hybrid, Igloo, were two attention-getters of the show.

Also planted in the garden were City of Pacifica fuchias. These upright bushed are the variety adopetd by the City Council as an official flower.

Metu, Capri, Blush of Dawn and Voodoo were other outstanding varieties throughout the exhibit.

CONTEMPORARY pottery and sculpture were displayed by Larry Kempher and his students, Elizabeth Heil, and Liliane Natwick.

Kempher, who owns the Del-Pac Art Gallery iin Pacifica, demonstrated pottery-making at his wheel.

Mrs. Natwick, who studied under Erne Kim at San Francisco College, prefers earth tones in her pottery and leaves much of the natural clay color.

Paintings were in oil, water color, charcoal, casein and a new plastic media. There also mono-prints and woodcuts.

Most of the exhibiting painters and ceramists are members of the Pacifica Art Guild.

THE TWO-DAY program included entertainment by the Kelelani Troupe of Polynesian dances from San Francisco, a professional group, directed bby Mrs. Jerry Matlock; exhibits of theatrical make-up by Nathan Marks and Julian Crew; the Terpsichoreans of San Francisco, firected by Grace Nichols; and the Elleris and Company Dannce Troupe.

Wall Scorched By Grease Fire

A pan of grease caught fire on a stove in the apartment of Bing Supanich at 14 Hill Street in Daly City last Wednesday night and caused an estimated $100 damage, Daly City firemen reported.

The fire scorched a wall before it burned itself out, they said.
